DISCUSSION OF ISSUES

ISSUE 1: Should the pay telephone service (PATS) providers referenced in the above dockets be required to show cause why the Commission should not fine each of them $250 or, in the alternative, why these PATS providers should not have their certificates revoked for failure to comply with Rule 25-24.520, Florida Administrative Code requiring annual reports, and Rule 25-4.043, requiring responses to Commission inquiries?

RECOMMENDATION: Yes, staff recommends that each of the referenced companies be required to show cause why they should not be fined or, in the alternative, have their certificate revoked for failure to comply with Rule 25-24.520 and Rule 25-4.043, Florida Administrative Code.

STAFF ANALYSIS: Rule 25-24.520, Florida Administrative Code, requires the filing of annual reports with the Commission, by January 31st. Rule 25-4.043 Florida Administrative Code requires that all entities under the Commission's jurisdiction reply to Commission inquiries. As certificated Pay Telephone Service (PATS) providers, the companies listed in Table 1, Attachment A are subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission and have failed to file the required reports. A notice was sent on December 5, 1990, notifying each PATS provider of this requirement and requesting compliance. As of April 1, 1991, the companies referenced in Table 1, Attachment A have not responded. A copy of the notice is attached hereto as Attachment B.

It is Staff's recommendation that PATS providers who respond to the show cause action should be treated on a case by case basis and that any company or person not responding within 20 days of the show cause order should have its certificate automatically cancelled. Staff recommends that no fine be imposed on any PATS provider whose certificate is cancelled. However, a company whose certificate is cancelled without the imposition of a fine cannot be relieved of its responsibility to pay its regulatory assessment fees.

For those companies whose certificates are cancelled, the local exchange company will be required to disconnect their PATS lines. These cancellations will be automatic and it will not be necessary to bring a cancellation back before the Commission. Staff believes that cancellation without a fine is the most efficient and cost-effective way to manage PATS providers who do not comply with the annual report requirement and that this procedure will help purge the Commission's files of PATS providers no longer in operation.

ISSUE 2: What is the appropriate fine to be levied in lieu of certificate revocation for failure to file required reports and failure to reply to Commission inquiries?

RECOMMENDATION: Staff recommends that $250 would be an appropriate amount.

STAFF ANALYSIS: Staff is recommending an increase in the fine from $100 to $250 for companies who have failed to file an annual report for 1990. Staff's reasons for an increase in the fine amount are based on several factors presented below.

On December 5, 1990, 559 pay telephone providers were mailed notices to file an annual report. As of February 20, 1991, 189 companies or 36% did not file the report. This is a 16% increase over 1989 figures, where 114 out of 690 or 17% of the pay telephone providers were show caused for failure to file an annual report. Out of the 189 companies who failed to file for 1990 only 33 or 17% of those companies were first time filers. The remaining 83% or 156 companies had filed an annual report for past years.

Despite the fact that pay telephone providers decreased by 131 companies from 1989 to 1990, there was an increase in the number of companies who failed to file a report by 16%. Staff has expended many hours preparing the necessary files and recommendations for these violators; and given the fact that the majority of the pay telephone providers who failed to file this year were not first time filers, staff would recommend an increase in the fine amount.

In previous years, staff recommended a maximum fine of $100 to bring the violation to the attention of the provider and impress upon him the necessity for knowledge of and compliance with the Commission's Rules and Regulations without being unduly burdensome. However, based upon the figures above, an increase in the fine amount is necessary. Furthermore, staff recognizes that repeat offenders warrant special consideration. Repeat offenders will be addressed in a separate recommendation.

ISSUE 3: Should these dockets be closed?

RECOMMENDATION: These dockets should remain open pending the resolution of the show cause proceedings. However, the docket of any PATS provider that does not respond to the show cause order should be administratively closed upon the expiration of the show cause response period.

STAFF ANALYSIS: These dockets must remain open pending resolution of the show cause proceedings. PATS providers who respond within the show cause period should be handled on a case by case basis. Any company who fails to respond within 20 days of the show cause order shall have its PATS certificate automatically revoked and the related dockets should be administratively closed.
