Kay and Matilda, this should have been docketed since the MCD update form included a separate letter requesting a name change. Please docket. Thanks.

I believe it should be docketed, since it is not scratch on a form.

Regarding the question of a company having to include documentation with its letter, ideally it should. However, this happens frequently with dba's in applications and they are still docketed. We can always deny in a recommendation.

Ray, this included a letter from the company asking for a name change. Should this be docketed (they did not include DOS documentation)? I checked DOS and Spirit Telecom is not registered. I guess my point is, this was a separate letter requesting a name change. Does a company have to include documentation with its letter?
