Dear Mr. Stamoulis:

To my knowledge, we still have not received a letter requesting cancellation. According to the US Postal Service, the delinquent notice was delivered on February 24, 2009, which means the company's letter requesting cancellation must be postmarked by March 11, 2009, to avoid the automatic fine. Just as information, I noted that the company also has a CLEC certificate and that the Regulatory Assessment Fee was paid on the CLEC. Therefore, when you write your letter requesting cancellation, please specifically advise if the company only wants its IXC cancelled or both the IXC and CLEC certificates. Thanks.

Mr. Stamoulis:

I can't find record where we received a request for cancellation. Just as information, certificates remain active until a company requests cancellation or the Commission cancels a certificate on its own motion for violation of a rule, statute, or order. In addition, the Regulatory Assessment Fee (RAF) is owed if a certificate is active for any day during a calendar year, whether or not a company was operating.

If a company wants to leave in good standing with the Commission, it will need to write a letter requesting cancellation and pay the 2008 and 2009 RAFs, which means the total due right now is $1,442 ($700 RAF for 2008, $35 penalty for 2008, $7 interest for 2008, and $700 RAF for 2009).

If a company does not want to leave in good standing with the Commission, it still needs to write a letter requesting cancellation and state that it will not be able to pay the 2008 and 2009 RAFs and explain why. And, of course, we will still cancel the certificate, it will just be on the Commission's own motion and any unpaid fees are turned over to collections. In addition, if a company ever decides to reenter the telecommunications market in Florida, it would have to pay any outstanding fees at that time, including late payment charges which continue to accrue until the RAFs are paid.

I wish I had better news for you. Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.

Good morning:

The Commission received the company's 2008 Regulatory Assessment Fee (RAF) return form. Unfortunately, payment was not attached. Since the form indicates the minimum is due, the company also owes late payment charges. If payment is postmarked between January 31 and March 1, the total due is $742, which is comprised of the $700 minimum RAF, $35 penalty, and $7 interest. If payment is postmarked between March 2 and March 31, the total due is $784, which is comprised of the $700 minimum RAF, $70 penalty, and $14 interest.

I also wanted to let you know that this morning (February 20, 2009), the Commission mailed out delinquent notices to those companies that either have not paid the 2008 Regulatory Assessment Fee (RAF) or have not paid the 2008 RAF in full. I wanted to give you a heads up because those certificate holders not complying with the delinquent notices will be automatically fined $500 for a first offense, $1,000 for a second offense, and $2,000 for a third offense. A copy of the Regulatory Assessment Fee rule is attached.

If your records show that payment was made, let me know right away by providing me with the check number and the date payment was mailed so that I can research this further. Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.
