ANSWER TO AMENDED PETITION OF DELTACOM, INC. AND AMENDED COUNTERCLAIM OF HYPERCUBE TELECOM, LLC f/k/a KMC DATA, LLC

Hypercube Telecom, LLC f/k/a KMC Data, LLC (“Hypercube”), pursuant to Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.203, hereby files its Answer to the Amended Petition of DeltaCom, Inc. (“DeltaCom”) filed on or about October 23, 2009 with the Florida Public Service Commission (“Commission”). In addition, Hypercube files amended counterclaims against DeltaCom.

HYPERCUBE INTRODUCTION

1. Despite the allegations of DeltaCom’s Amended Petition, this case actually involves DeltaCom’s unreasonable, unjust, and unlawful refusal to pay for services provided by Hypercube. Hypercube, a competitive local exchange carrier (“CLEC”), has lawfully charged DeltaCom for telecommunications services performed by Hypercube in connection with DeltaCom’s for-profit provision of toll-free (i.e., “800” or “8YY”) calls that originate and terminate within the State of Florida. DeltaCom is an interexchange carrier (“IXC”) that offers for-profit toll-free calling services, which are commonly referred to as “800 services” or “8YY services.”<sup>1</sup> As the for-profit provider of 8YY services, DeltaCom is responsible for paying for the services provided by CLECs like Hypercube and other telecommunications providers to complete the call. However, DeltaCom has refused to pay Hypercube for the services it has provided and continues to provide to DeltaCom. Hypercube simply seeks payment for the services it provided and for which Hypercube is authorized to collect from DeltaCom, the responsible IXC.

HYPERCUBE RESPONSE TO SPECIFIC ALLEGATIONS

2. The opening paragraph contains DeltaCom's characterization of the Amended Petition and, therefore, requires no response. To the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations in the opening paragraph.

DELTACOM INTRODUCTION

3. Hypercube denies the allegations in Amended Petition Paragraph No. 1. Hypercube provides the access services at issue in DeltaCom's Amended Petition to DeltaCom, not wireless carriers.

4. Amended Petition Paragraph 2. Hypercube admits that wireless providers have the option of sending 8YY traffic to the ILEC tandem, but denies any "historical" practice in this regard. Hypercube denies DeltaCom's characterization of federal law, which speaks for itself. Hypercube lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in this paragraph concerning DeltaCom's contracts or typical billing arrangements with wireless carriers and those allegations are therefore denied. Hypercube further adds that companies that sell 8YY services, like DeltaCom, are responsible for paying access charges incurred as a result of those companies' use of other carriers' networks as an input to their for-profit toll-free 8YY offerings.

5. Amended Petition Paragraph 3. Hypercube denies that it "help[s] wireless carriers accomplish indirectly what federal and state law bars them from doing directly."

Hypercube admits that it lawfully transports 8YY calls from wireless carriers to the ILEC tandem and may lawfully charge for the services it provides DeltaCom in doing so.

Hypercube admits that it has contracts with wireless carriers to transport 8YY calls.

Hypercube denies the remaining allegations of this paragraph.

6. Amended Petition Paragraph 4. The allegations of this paragraph and Footnote 1 are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

7. Amended Petition Paragraph 5. The allegations of this paragraph are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

8. Amended Petition Paragraph 6. The allegations of this paragraph and Footnote 2 are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

9. Amended Petition Paragraph 7. The allegations of this paragraph are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

10. Amended Petition Paragraph 8. The allegations of this paragraph are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

11. Amended Petition Paragraph 9. The allegations of this paragraph are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

DELTACOM PARTIES AND JURISDICTION

12. Amended Petition Paragraph 10. Hypercube lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the allegations in this paragraph, and those allegations are therefore denied.

13. Amended Petition Paragraph 11. Hypercube admits the allegations in this paragraph. Hypercube further states that it also is authorized to provide intrastate exchange access services within the State of Florida.

14. Amended Petition Paragraph 12. Hypercube admits the allegations in this paragraph. Hypercube further states that Hypercube, LLC acquired KMC Data, LLC in 2005. In 2008, KMC Data, LLC changed its name to Hypercube Telecom, LLC.

15. Amended Petition Paragraph 13. The allegations of this paragraph and Footnote 3 are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube admits the allegations of this paragraph.

DELTACOM FACTUAL BACKGROUND

16. Amended Petition Paragraph 14. Hypercube admits the allegations in this paragraph.

17. Amended Petition Paragraph 15. Hypercube admits that wireless providers have the option of sending 8YY traffic to the ILEC tandem, but denies any “traditional” practice in this regard. Hypercube denies DeltaCom’s characterization of Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”) rulings, which speak for themselves. Footnote 4 cites to an order of the FCC, which speaks for itself, and otherwise contains legal conclusions to which no response is required. If a response is required, the allegations are denied. Hypercube lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in this paragraph concerning DeltaCom's contracts or typical billing arrangements with wireless carriers and those allegations are therefore denied. Hypercube denies that the diagram attached as Exhibit A to DeltaCom's Amended Petition accurately reflects a "typical call flow." Hypercube further adds that nothing precludes DeltaCom from directly interconnecting with wireless carriers or with Hypercube. Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slides 1 and 2, attached to Hypercube's original answer, illustrates the services provided by Hypercube and the alternatives available to DeltaCom.

18. Amended Petition Paragraph 16. Hypercube admits that it lawfully transports 8YY calls from wireless carriers to the ILEC tandem and may lawfully charge for the services it provides DeltaCom in doing so. Hypercube denies that Footnote 5 fully encompasses the services provided by Hypercube. As the 8YY provider, DeltaCom (and no other carrier) is responsible for paying access charges associated with DeltaCom's provision of toll-free, 8YY service to its customers. Hypercube denies that the diagram attached as Exhibit A to DeltaCom's Amended Petition accurately reflects its role in delivering a call for termination. Hypercube further adds that to the extent DeltaCom argues that Hypercube's tandem is unnecessary or duplicative of the ILEC's tandem, nothing precludes DeltaCom from directly interconnecting with wireless carriers or with Hypercube. Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slides 1 and 2, illustrates the services provided by Hypercube and the alternatives available to DeltaCom. Hypercube denies the remaining allegations of this paragraph.

19. Amended Petition Paragraph 17. Hypercube admits that it has contracts with wireless carriers to transport 8YY calls. Hypercube denies the remaining allegations of this paragraph. Hypercube denies DeltaCom's characterization of FCC rulings in this paragraph and Footnotes 6 and 7. Those are legal documents which speak for themselves.

20. Amended Petition Paragraph 18. Hypercube admits that Hypercube may lawfully charge for the services it provides DeltaCom in the form of access charges and database dips. Hypercube denies the remaining allegations of this paragraph. Hypercube denies DeltaCom's characterization of federal law, which speaks for itself.

21. Amended Petition Paragraph 19. Hypercube admits that it properly and lawfully billed DeltaCom for the services it provided DeltaCom and that DeltaCom has not paid what it owes Hypercube. Hypercube's Florida Price List is attached as Exhibit Hypercube-B to Hypercube's original answer.

22. Amended Petition Paragraph 20. Hypercube admits the letters attached as Exhibit C and D to the Amended Petition were exchanged between the parties, but denies any suggestion that these two letters accurately reflect all correspondence between the parties. Footnote 9 contains DeltaCom's characterization of Hypercube's Price List, which is a legal document that speaks for itself. Footnote 9 also contains legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent an answer is required Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph. Hypercube denies the remaining allegations of this paragraph.

23. Amended Petition Paragraph 21. Hypercube denies DeltaCom may lawfully bill Hypercube for DeltaCom's so-called Intermediate Provider Access Service or that DeltaCom actually provides any service to Hypercube that is subject to switched access service charges. DeltaCom's so-called Intermediate Provider Access Service is a transparent, unlawful attempt to avoid Hypercube's lawful charges, as well as those of other providers, at DeltaCom's sole discretion. HyperCube is providing a service, but in the context of DeltaCom's Intermediate Provider Access Service, DeltaCom is not. As such, DeltaCom's tariff should be invalidated to the extent it attempts to authorize such charges by DeltaCom.

24. Amended Petition Paragraph 22. Hypercube admits DeltaCom has unlawfully refused to pay for the services it received from Hypercube. Hypercube admits it and DeltaCom have not been able to resolve this dispute outside of litigation.

DELTACOM COUNT ONE

25. Amended Petition Paragraph 23. Hypercube repeats and realleges its responses contained in the prior paragraphs, as if fully set forth herein.

26. Amended Petition Paragraph 24. Hypercube admits that it properly and lawfully billed DeltaCom for the services it provided DeltaCom. Hypercube admits that it has contracts with certain wireless carriers for access to their networks. Hypercube denies the remaining allegations in this paragraph.

27. Amended Petition Paragraph 25. The allegations of this paragraph and Footnote 10 are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

28. Amended Petition Paragraph 26. The allegations of this paragraph and Footnote 11 are legal conclusions to which no response is required, but to the extent a response is required, Hypercube denies the allegations of this paragraph.

HYPERCUBE AMENDED COUNTERCLAIMS

89. Hypercube states as follows in support of its Amended Counterclaims:

HYPERCUBE AMENDED COUNTERCLAIMS INTRODUCTION

90. These Amended Counterclaims are based on DeltaCom's unlawful refusal to pay Hypercube, a competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC"), for DeltaCom's use of Hypercube's network in connection with DeltaCom's provision of 8YY calls that originate and terminate within the State of Florida. DeltaCom offers for-profit toll-free calling services, or 8YY services, to its customers.

91. DeltaCom is responsible for paying for all costs related to transporting a call to DeltaCom's 8YY subscribers.

92. Hypercube has provided services to DeltaCom related to transporting calls from wireless callers and others to DeltaCom's 8YY subscribers.<sup>2</sup> Hypercube has performed and continues to perform the services that are the subject of this Amended Petition pursuant to Hypercube's Commission-approved Price List, attached as Exhibit Hypercube-B to Hypercube's original answer, which sets forth the rates, terms, and conditions for Hypercube's provision of intrastate access services to DeltaCom and others. In the alternative to Hypercube's right to compensation under its Tariff, DeltaCom is obligated to compensate Hypercube under a quantum meruit theory when DeltaCom accepted valuable services of Hypercube without compensating Hypercube.

<sup>2</sup> DeltaCom's Petition only concerns wireless toll-free calls. Hypercube transports these types of calls, but its business also includes transporting other types of calls, such as wireline calls of cable operators, among others.

A. Switched Access Service Provided By Hypercube To DeltaCom

93. When DeltaCom provides its customers with an 8YY service, customers placing 8YY calls and carriers alike know that DeltaCom is responsible for all costs associated with delivering the toll-free call to DeltaCom's customer. These costs include payment for the use of other carriers' networks to originate and transport a toll-free call and the process by which other carriers query industry databases to make sure the 8YY call is routed correctly. When a carrier transports and switches a call to an 8YY number, the carrier must query a database that maintains a list of telecommunications carriers offering 8YY service. Through performing this database query, also known as a "dip," the carrier originating an 8YY telephone call ensures that calls have the appropriate features applied and are sent to the correct telecommunications carrier and, ultimately, to the correct customer destination. Maintaining this database and processing queries creates a cost burden on carriers involved in transporting and switching 8YY traffic, such as Hypercube. Carriers performing this work are entitled to compensation from the carriers, here DeltaCom, that sell 8YY service to end users.

94. Indeed, when a calling party dials an 8YY number (i.e., a toll-free number), carriers involved in originating such calls are precluded from assessing any charges on the person making the toll-free phone call. Instead, the carrier providing the toll-free service to its customers, here DeltaCom, is responsible for the costs associated with originating 8YY calls.

95. Hypercube has performed its duties as a telecommunications carrier (i) by performing a query of the 8YY database to make sure only 8YY calls destined for DeltaCom's end users are routed to DeltaCom and (ii) by switching and transporting the 8YY calls to DeltaCom so that DeltaCom can deliver the 8YY calls to its end user customers who in return pay DeltaCom for the 8YY telephone number. See Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slide 2. However,

DeltaCom refuses to pay Hypercube's lawfully assessed access charges and database queries for transmitting the 8YY calls.

B. The FCC's Access Charge Regime For CLECs

96. In its Access Charge Reform, Reform of Access Charges Imposed by Competitive Local Exchange Carriers, Seventh Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 16 FCC Rcd. 9923, ¶¶ 90-97 (2001) (the "Seventh Report and Order"), the FCC held that interexchange carriers ("IXCs"), such as DeltaCom, are obligated to purchase tariffed CLEC access services, including those related to toll calls that originate on wireless networks. The FCC found that an IXC's refusal to do so constitutes a violation of Section 201 of the Communications Act.<sup>3</sup> The FCC also held that tariffed CLEC access charges for such services are "conclusively deemed reasonable."<sup>4</sup>

97. In making this finding, the FCC emphasized that calls must flow between carriers in order to ensure universal connectivity, seamlessness and reliability of telecommunications networks for the benefit of consumers that use the Public Switched Telephone Network.<sup>5</sup> This is particularly important with toll-free service (i.e., "8YY"), where carriers, such as Hypercube, are precluded from charging the calling party (i.e., the person making the call) for calling a toll free number. In offering toll-free service, the IXC, in this case DeltaCom, commits to paying all

<sup>3</sup> Seventh Report and Order at ¶ 97. In the Seventh Report and Order, the FCC established a series of benchmark rates for CLEC access tariffs associated with interstate access services. Hypercube has complied with the FCC's access charge regulations.

<sup>5</sup> Id. at ¶ 93. See also id. at ¶ 23 (noting that "IXCs appear routinely to be flouting their obligations under the tariff system"); ¶ 24 (IXC traffic blocking "threaten[s] to compromise the ubiquity and seamlessness of the nation's telecommunications network and could result in consumer confusion.").

costs, including access charges, associated with toll free calls. IXCs may only recoup these costs from their toll-free subscribers (i.e., the called party).

98. Specific to 8YY traffic, the FCC held that it was “not necessary immediately to cap [CLEC] access rates for 8YY traffic at the rate of the competing [ILEC].”<sup>6</sup> “Rather,” the FCC continued, CLECs could “continue to charge the previously established” benchmark rate.<sup>7</sup> Thus, at the federal level, 8YY traffic has always been compensable at the FCC benchmark rate.

99. The FCC has also held that CLECs may assess tariffed access charges on IXCs when acting as an intermediate carrier delivering calls from wireless carriers to IXCs.<sup>8</sup> CLECs are entitled to assess tariffed charges for the functionality they perform (e.g., tandem switching); CLECs may not charge pursuant to their tariffs for the work that others, such as wireless carriers, perform in delivering 8YY calls to an IXC. Rather, carriers may only charge for the work they perform, and wireless carriers may assess such charges based on express or implied contracts.<sup>9</sup>

100. Specifically regarding traffic from wireless service providers, the FCC has stated that while “a competitive LEC has no right to collect access charges for the portion of the service provided by the [wireless] provider,” it can charge for access components at rates comparable to those charged by the ILEC for the comparable functions.<sup>10</sup> The FCC added, however, that

CLECs “continue to have flexibility in determining the access rate elements and rate structure for the elements and services they provide.”<sup>11</sup> Thus, in contrast to the regulation of ILECs, the federal “benchmark rate for CLEC switched access does not require any particular rate elements or rate structure; for example, it does not dictate whether a CLEC must use flat-rate charges or per-minute charges, so long as the composite rate does not exceed the benchmark.”<sup>12</sup>

101. LECs may collect access charges even where there is more than one LEC involved in transporting the call to the IXC. At any time, an IXC may interconnect directly with an intermediate LEC to minimize the number of carriers involved in originating an 8YY call.<sup>13</sup>

102. The FCC’s findings are consistent with that of state public utilities commissions addressing similar issues. For example, in a dispute brought by WilTel against Verizon at the New York Public Service Commission (“NYPSC”),<sup>14</sup> WilTel alleged that Verizon was not entitled to access charges for the traffic it terminated to wireless carriers’ end users because the wireless carriers themselves would not be entitled to compensation from an IXC for access charges unless a contract existed between the two parties. Under the filed tariff doctrine, the NYPSC held that WilTel was required to pay Verizon for the services Verizon performed in completing the call.

C. Specific Issues Related To The Origination Of Toll Free Calls Made By Consumers Over Wireless Networks

103. The calls at issue in this case are toll-free calls made by consumers using their wireless phones to DeltaCom's 8YY subscribers.

104. Wireless carriers may only charge IXCs and others access charges by express or implied contract for use of the wireless carrier's network for call origination and termination.<sup>15</sup> Unlike LECs (CLECs and ILECs), however, wireless carriers may not file tariffs with the FCC or the state commissions for these services. IXCs are free to negotiate direct interconnection arrangements with wireless carriers and LECs, including Hypercube.

105. It is obvious that wireless carriers have faced difficulty in negotiating individual contracts with IXCs, and the prohibition on wireless carriers filing tariffs artificially increased the costs to the wireless carriers of carrying their customers' calls to landline-based customers, even those that were purportedly "toll-free" calls to IXCs like DeltaCom. This has been particularly problematic with 8YY calls, as the wireless carrier has no way of knowing what IXC is responsible for the call at the time it is made.

106. In addition to the costs associated with carrying 8YY calls on their own networks (which wireless carriers are entitled to recover, but cannot do so by tariff), wireless carriers were forced to pay other carriers, often the ILEC, for carrying the IXC's 8YY traffic to the ILEC's tandem switch, even though the IXCs are responsible for the costs associated with carrying toll-free calls.

107. As a result, certain wireless carriers have found it more convenient to route access calls, including 8YY calls, to LECs as early in the call stream as possible. By doing so, the wireless carrier minimizes the amount of work it must perform for free on behalf of the IXCs in cases where the IXC either: (i) does not directly interconnect with the wireless carrier or (ii) otherwise will not enter into a contract with the wireless carrier for network access.

108. To meet this market demand, numerous LECs have developed product offerings that provide for carrying 8YY traffic from the networks of wireless carriers (and others) to the networks of IXCs for termination to their subscribers that purchase toll-free services. Level 3, for example, offers such a service, which it calls “Toll Free Inter-exchange Delivery Service.” As another example, Verizon Business Inc.’s offering is known as “Toll Free 8YY Transit Traffic Service.” Sprint Communications Company L.P. similarly calls its competing offering “Toll Free 8YY Transit Traffic Service.” Many other LECs provide competing alternatives as well.

109. All LECs, including Hypercube, are entitled to bill the IXC for the work the LEC performs in delivering the calls from a wireless carrier’s network to an IXC’s network pursuant to filed tariffs.

110. On information and belief, DeltaCom pays ILEC access charges for DeltaCom’s use of ILEC tandem switching in routing 8YY calls to DeltaCom’s network.

111. In many instances, LECs contract with wireless carriers for access to the wireless carriers networks. And pursuant to such agreements, wireless carriers hand off toll-free calls to LECs for delivery to the IXC. The FCC has reviewed these types of arrangements and found no cause to limit or otherwise restrict the ability of an intermediate carrier to recover tariffed-based access charges for the work performed.<sup>16</sup>

<sup>16</sup> Eighth Report and Order at ¶¶ 69-72. With regard to agreements between wireless carriers and LECs related to access, the FCC has held that “carriers are free to arrange whatever compensation arrangement they like for the exchange of traffic.” Sprint PCS at ¶ 7.

112. This is true even in instances where there is more than one LEC involved in delivering an 8YY call to an IXC, such as DeltaCom. At any time, an IXC may interconnect directly with an intermediate LEC (or in some cases, even directly with the calling party's carrier, which may be wireless or wireline) to minimize the number of carriers involved in originating an 8YY call.<sup>17</sup> When an IXC does so, it avoids entirely the access charges associated with the functionality that previously was provided by an intermediate carrier. See Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slides 1 and 2. Thus, DeltaCom could directly connect to the wireless carrier, and therefore avoid both the ILEC and LECs like Hypercube. See Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slide 2. Alternatively, DeltaCom could directly connect with Hypercube and avoid the ILEC. See Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slide 1.

113. Hypercube offers direct interconnection to all IXCs. Direct interconnection is Hypercube's preferred method of delivering traffic to (and receiving traffic from) IXCs. In fact in excess of 90% of the minutes that cross Hypercube's network are delivered using direct interconnection with the IXCs. Despite multiple invitations from Hypercube, DeltaCom has declined to directly interconnect its network with Hypercube's network for 8YY calls destined to DeltaCom's customers. If DeltaCom directly interconnected with Hypercube, Hypercube would not need to route the call through an ILEC, but could send the call directly to DeltaCom. See Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slide 1.

114. DeltaCom could also interconnect directly with wireless carriers (and others), and thereby avoid using third-party networks for receiving its 8YY traffic (and other traffic). See Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slide 2.

HYPERCUBE FACTS

115. Hypercube provides interstate and intrastate access services to various customers, including IXCs, CLECs, and commercial mobile radio service carriers (commonly referred to as wireless carriers). Hypercube Telecom, LLC operates pursuant to Hypercube's Commission-approved Price List. Hypercube's claims in these Amended Counterclaims concern only its provision of intrastate access services to DeltaCom in the State of Florida.

116. When a wireless carrier's customer makes an 8YY call, the wireless carrier has no way of knowing the identity of the responsible IXC. Wireless carriers have no obligation to incur this expense on behalf of IXCs to get their 8YY traffic to them. Wireless carriers similarly have no obligation to route 8YY traffic beyond the confines of their networks, which end at the Mobile Telephone Switching Office, or "MTSO."

117. When wireless customers' toll-free calls are routed through the Hypercube's facilities, Hypercube provides access services and database query services to the IXC that is being paid by its customers to provide the toll-free service to those customers.

118. When Hypercube provides access and associated database query services in connection with a call made from a wireless telephone, Hypercube picks the call up at the MTSO and transports it to Hypercube's switching equipment.

119. While the call is in the Hypercube switch, Hypercube performs switching and routing functions and additional services, such as running a query of the national 8YY telephone number database to determine where the call should be routed (known as a "database dip"). Once the database returns information regarding the IXC whose 8YY customer has been called, Hypercube's switch performs the necessary routing to deliver the call to the IXC's network. The services provided by Hypercube are illustrated in Exhibit Hypercube-A, Slide 2.

120. Common carriers, like Hypercube, have an obligation to route traffic to other carriers, such as DeltaCom. As a result of this obligation and in consideration for work performed, Hypercube is entitled to bill and to collect charges for the access services and database query charges provided to other carriers, including DeltaCom for its 8YY customers, at tariffed rates approved by the Commission.

121. Hypercube's Price List sets forth the terms and conditions according to which Hypercube provides intrastate access charges and database query charges to DeltaCom in connection with DeltaCom's 8YY offering. The Price List sets forth the terms and conditions of these same services where a call originates and terminates in Florida.

122. Hypercube's Price List encompasses the services it provided DeltaCom in routing calls to DeltaCom's 8YY subscribers. Specifically, Hypercube has provided DeltaCom access service and has performed database dips in order to route calls to DeltaCom's 8YY subscribers. See Exhibit Hypercube-B, Florida Price List §§ 3.2.3, 3.2.5.

123. From December 2004 through the present, Hypercube has routed calls to DeltaCom as part of the 8YY service that DeltaCom offers to its customers. On information and belief, no other entity has charged DeltaCom for the access services or database query services performed by Hypercube's switch and network.

124. Since December 2004 and continuing through the present, DeltaCom has received, accepted, and benefited from intrastate access services and database query services provided by Hypercube in connection with DeltaCom's for-profit 8YY offering to its customers. DeltaCom accepted the calls that Hypercube originated and confirmed (through database queries) were destined to DeltaCom's 8YY customers. DeltaCom delivered those calls to its customers as part of DeltaCom's for-profit 8YY service offering.

125. On information and belief, DeltaCom has received and continues to receive payment from its 8YY customers for all calls Hypercube transmits to DeltaCom. In short, DeltaCom wants to collect revenue from its customers for providing toll-free service without paying the costs that Hypercube (which is legally obligated to deliver calls to DeltaCom) incurs in delivering the toll-free calls to DeltaCom.

126. DeltaCom has refused to pay Hypercube for the services Hypercube provided DeltaCom in routing 8YY calls to DeltaCom. DeltaCom owes $1,436,131.75 as of November 7, 2009 for intrastate switched access charges in Florida, which includes $1,048,225.85 for switched access services, $89,119.13 in database query charges, and $298,786.77 in late penalty charges as provided for in the Price List.

127. DeltaCom has also attempted to manipulate the amount it owes Hypercube in violation of the Price List by claiming that none of its toll-free calls originate and terminate in Florida and by reporting a 100% PIU<sup>18</sup> to Hypercube on or about October 11, 2007. See DeltaCom Amended Petition, Ex. C.

128. Hypercube asked DeltaCom to support its 100% PIU claim with data through a traffic study. DeltaCom refused to provide Hypercube any data to support DeltaCom's 100% PIU. DeltaCom did not base this PIU report on any data; and, instead, DeltaCom reported a 100% PIU based upon (i) a nonexistent "compromise and settlement agreement" between the parties, (ii) "regulatory uncertainty," and (iii) because "the jurisdiction of wireless calls to tollfree numbers cannot be determined with certainty." Id. Because DeltaCom refused to support its PIU claim with any data, Hypercube's Price List sets a default PIU of 50%, which means half the traffic is considered intrastate and half interstate. See Exhibit Hypercube-B, Florida Price List § 2.3.3.

129. Hypercube's bills to DeltaCom for intrastate access charges have reflected this default PIU. DeltaCom has provided no data to support any other PIU. See Exhibit Hypercube-B, Florida Price List § 2.3.3(F) ("For Switched Access Service, if a billing dispute arises ..., the Customer [DeltaCom] will provide the data issued to determine the projected PIU factor.").

130. Hypercube has attempted to resolve DeltaCom's non-payment through negotiations, but negotiations have been unsuccessful.

131. At all times relevant hereto, DeltaCom has had actual and constructive notice of Hypercube's intrastate access and associated database query charges for originating 8YY traffic. DeltaCom continues to receive, use, and benefit from Hypercube's intrastate access service and database query services.

132. DeltaCom has refused to pay an amount not less than $1,436,131.75 as of November 7, 2009 in Hypercube's lawfully billed charges to DeltaCom for Florida intrastate switched access service.

133. The amount overdue from DeltaCom for access services provided by Hypercube represents service provided during the months of December 2004 through November 7, 2009. These amounts continue to grow each month as: (i) Hypercube continues to satisfy its statutory duty as a common carrier to provide services to DeltaCom; (ii) DeltaCom avails itself of Hypercube's services; (iii) DeltaCom utilizes those services as an input to the 8YY services DeltaCom provides to its customers and for which DeltaCom receives payment; and (iv) DeltaCom refuses to pay for the services received from Hypercube.

134. DeltaCom's refusal to pay these charges and associated late fees is without legal justification or excuse.

HYPERCUBE COUNTERCLAIM COUNT I

BREACH OF HYPERCUBE'S PRICE LIST

135. Hypercube incorporates the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

136. Hypercube's Price List sets forth the charges that Hypercube imposes on carriers that make use of its services.

137. The provisions of Hypercube's Price List were approved by the Commission and therefore have the force of law, establishing Hypercube's lawful rates for providing the telecommunications services described above.

138. Hypercube has provided telecommunications services to DeltaCom within Hypercube's Price List as described above.

139. DeltaCom has refused to provide Hypercube with any data to support its claimed PIU and, therefore, Hypercube is entitled to rely on the default procedures of the Price List and set a 50% PIU. Hypercube's bills to DeltaCom have reflected the default PIU and DeltaCom has provided no supported alternative PIU.

140. DeltaCom has unlawfully refused to pay the Commission-approved charges set forth in the invoices presented to DeltaCom by Hypercube.

141. As of November 7, 2009, the total amount of the lawful charges that DeltaCom owes pursuant to Hypercube's Price List but that DeltaCom has refused to pay is $1,436,131.75.

142. The Commission should order that DeltaCom must pay Hypercube all amounts due and owing.

HYPERCUBE COUNTERCLAIM COUNT II

QUANTUM MERUIT

143. Hypercube incorporates the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

144. In the alternative, should it be determined that the services performed by Hypercube were not pursuant to the Price List and that the Price List does not cover the services provided by Hypercube to DeltaCom, Hypercube is entitled to compensation from DeltaCom under a quantum meruit theory.

145. Hypercube conferred a benefit on DeltaCom when Hypercube performed valuable services for DeltaCom in routing calls to DeltaCom's 8YY subscribers over Hypercube's network.

146. DeltaCom knowingly requested and accepted the benefit conferred by Hypercube's services when it accepted wireless calls routed by Hypercube to DeltaCom's toll-free number subscribers.

147. DeltaCom has refused to pay Hypercube for the services provided by Hypercube.

148. It would be unjust for DeltaCom to retain the benefits of Hypercube's services without compensating Hypercube. Hypercube is lawfully entitled to bill DeltaCom for the services Hypercube provides.

149. Hypercube expected payment for the services it provided to DeltaCom. Because DeltaCom is offering on a for-profit basis 8YY services, LECs like Hypercube expect DeltaCom to pay for access charges incurred as a result of DeltaCom's use of the LEC's network to route calls to DeltaCom's toll-free 8YY subscribers. Hypercube fully expected payment for routing calls to DeltaCom's toll-free 8YY subscribers.

150. The Commission should order DeltaCom to compensate Hypercube for the benefit conferred upon DeltaCom.

HYPERCUBE COUNTERCLAIM COUNT III

ORDER FOR PROSPECTIVE RELIEF

151. Hypercube incorporates the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

152. DeltaCom has unreasonably, unjustly, and unlawfully refused to pay for services provided by Hypercube and will continue to refuse to pay Hypercube.

153. Hypercube is entitled to an order requiring DeltaCom to pay all amounts owed to Hypercube and barring DeltaCom from refusing to pay Hypercube in the future for services provided by Hypercube.

COUNTERCLAIM COUNT IV

DELTACOM'S SCHEME OF IMPOSING CHARGES FOR "INTERMEDIATE PROVIDER ACCESS" IS DISCRIMINATORY, UNJUST AND UNREASONABLE, ANTICOMPETITIVE AND OTHERWISE UNLAWFUL

1. Hypercube incorporates the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

2. In connection with DeltaCom's unlawful refusal to pay Hypercube's access charges, DeltaCom also modified its intrastate access services Price List to include a so-called "Intermediate Provider Access Service." See DeltaCom Amended Petition, Exhibit E, DeltaCom Florida Price List § 3.5.

3. In a transparent and unlawful attempt to avoid Hypercube's lawful charges, DeltaCom added its "Intermediate Provider Access Service" with rates that simply mirror the charges of the "Intermediate Provider" plus an additional ten percent. Here, DeltaCom has deemed Hypercube an "Intermediate Provider" and unlawfully billed Hypercube for such services.

4. DeltaCom's charges for its "Intermediate Provider Access Service" are unjust and unreasonable because DeltaCom has provided no actual service to Hypercube. DeltaCom is simply attempting to avoid paying Hypercube's lawful access charges.

5. DeltaCom is responsible for all charges associated with its provision of 8YY services.

6. DeltaCom's charges for its "Intermediate Provider Access Service" are unjust and unreasonable because DeltaCom is providing 8YY services and DeltaCom is responsible for all charges associated with transporting an 8YY call to DeltaCom's 8YY subscriber. DeltaCom's attempt to seek access charges regarding its provision of its own 8YY services is unjust and unreasonable. See FLA. STAT. §§ 364.01(4)(g); 364.03; 364.04.

7. DeltaCom's charges for its "Intermediate Provider Access Service" are discriminatory because, on information and belief, Hypercube is the only so-called "Intermediate Provider" that DeltaCom has charged for "Intermediate Provider Access Service." See FLA. STAT. §§ 364.01(4)(g); 364.03; 364.04; 364.051.

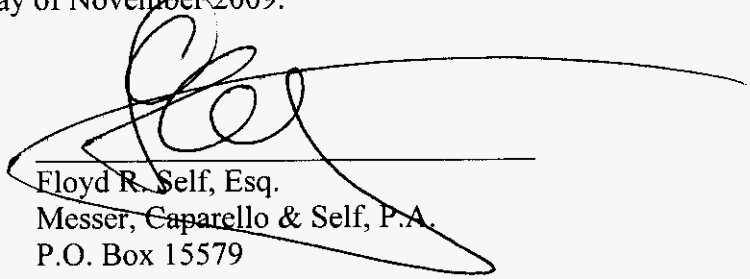

8. As a result of DeltaCom's discriminatory, unjust and unreasonable, anticompetitive and otherwise unlawful conduct, the Commission should order that (a) DeltaCom's Price List is invalid to the extent it charges for "Intermediate Provider Access Service"; (b) DeltaCom is not entitled to charge Hypercube for DeltaCom's "Intermediate Provider Access Service"; and (c) prohibit DeltaCom for seeking such charges in the future. See FLA. STAT. §§ 364.01(4)(g); 364.03; 364.04.

WHEREFORE, Hypercube respectfully requests that the Commission:

a. Issue an Order dismissing DeltaCom's Amended Petition;

- b. Issue an Order requiring DeltaCom to pay all sums due and owing to Hypercube;
- c. Issue an Order barring DeltaCom from refusing to pay future sums due and owing to Hypercube;
- d. Issue an Order granting Hypercube attorneys' fees and other costs as provided for in Hypercube's Price List;
- e. Issue an Order invalidating DeltaCom's Price List to the extent it seeks to impose unlawful access charges;
- f. Issue an Order barring DeltaCom from seeking unlawful access charges for DeltaCom's "Intermediate Provider Access Service"; and
- g. Issue an Order granting such other and further relief as the Commission may deem just and proper.

Respectfully submitted this 23rd day of November 2009.

PRICE LIST FORMAT

- A. Sheet Numbering - Page numbers appear in the upper right corner of the sheet. Pages are numbered sequentially. However, new pages are occasionally added to the Price List. When a new page is added between existing pages with whole numbers, a decimal is added. For example, a new page added between pages 34 and 35 would be page 34.1.

- B. Sheet Revision Numbering - Revision numbers also appear in the upper right corner of the page. These numbers are used to determine the most current page version on file with the Commission. For example, 4th Revised Page 34 cancels the 3rd Revised Page 34. Consult the check sheet for the page currently in effect.

- C. Paragraph Numbering Sequence - There are nine levels of paragraph coding. Each level of coding is subservient to its next higher level:
  - 2.
  - 2.1.
  - 2.1.1.
  - 2.1.1.A.
  - 2.1.1.A.1.
  - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).
  - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).I.
  - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).I.(i).
  - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).I.(i).(1).

- D. Check Sheet - When a Price List is filed with the Commission, an updated check sheet accompanies the Price List filing. The check sheet lists the Price List pages, with a cross reference to the current revision number. When new sheets are added, the check sheet is changed to reflect the revision. All revisions made in a given filing are designated by an asterisk (*). There will be no other symbols used on this sheet if these are the only changes made. The Price List user should refer to the latest check sheet to find out if a particular page is the most current on file with the Commission.

SECTION 3. - APPLICATION OF RATES

3.1 Introduction

The regulations set forth in this section govern the application of rates for services contained in other sections of this Price List.

3.2 Charges Based on Duration of Use

Where charges for a service are specified based on the duration of use, such as the duration of a telephone call, the following rules apply:

- (A) Calls are measured in durational increments identified for each service. All calls that are fractions of a measurement increment are rounded-up to the next whole unit.
- (B) Timing on completed calls begins when the call is answered by the called party. Answering is determined by hardware answer supervision in all cases where this signaling is provided by the terminating local carrier and any intermediate carrier(s). Timing for operator service person-to-person calls start with completion of the connection to the person called or an acceptable substitute, or to the PBX station called.
- (C) Timing terminates on all calls when the calling party hangs up or the Company's network receives an off-hook signal from the terminating carrier.
- (D) Calls originating in one time period and terminating in another will be billed in proportion to the rates in effect during different segments of the call.
- (E) All times refer to local time.

SECTION 3 - APPLICATION OF RATES (Cont'd)

3.3 Rates Based Upon Distance

Where charges for a service are specified based upon distance, the following rules:

- (A) Distance between two points is measured as airline distance between the rate centers of the originating and terminating telephone lines. The rate center is a set of geographic coordinates, as referenced in the Local Exchange Routing Guide issued by Bellcore, associated with each NPA-NXX combination (where NPA is the area code and NXX is the first three digits of a seven-digit telephone number). Where there is no telephone number associated with an access line on the Company's network (such as a dedicated 800 or WATS access line), the Company will apply the rate center of the Customer's main billing telephone number.

SECTION 3 - APPLICATION OF RATES (Cont'd)

3.3 Rates Based Upon Distance (Cont'd)

(B) The airline distance between any two rate centers is determined as follows:

- (1) Obtain the "V" (vertical) and "H" (horizontal) coordinates for each rate center from the Bellcore Local Exchange Routing guide referenced in Section 3.3(A).
- (2) Compute the difference between the "V" coordinates of the two rate centers; and the difference between the two "H" coordinates.
- (3) Square each difference obtained in step (2) above.
- (4) Add the square of the "V" difference and the square of the "H" difference obtained in step (3) above.
- (5) Divide the sum of the squares by 10. Round to the next higher whole number if any fraction is obtained.
- (6) Obtain the square root of the whole number result obtained above. Round to the next higher whole number if any fraction is obtained. This is the airline mileage.
- (7) FORMULA =

$$\sqrt{\frac{(V1 - V2)^2 + (H1 - H2)^2}{10}}$$

3.4 Minimum Call Completion Rate

A customer can expect a call completion rate (number of calls completed/number of calls attempted) of not less than 90% during peak use periods for all Feature Group D services (1+ dialing).

TARIFF FORMAT

A. Sheet Numbering - Sheet numbers appear in the upper right corner of the sheet. Sheets are numbered sequentially. However, new sheets are occasionally added to the tariff. When a new sheet is added between sheets already in effect, a decimal is added. For example, a new sheet added between sheets 14 and 15 would be 14.1.

B. Sheet Revision Numbers - Revision numbers also appear in the upper right corner of each sheet. These numbers are used to determine the most current sheet version on file with the Commission. For example, the 4th revised Sheet 14 cancels the 3rd revised Sheet 14. Because of various suspension periods, deferrals, etc. the Commission follows in its tariff approval process, the most current sheet number on file with the Commission is not always the sheet in effect. Consult the Check Sheet for the sheet currently in effect.

C. Paragraph Numbering Sequence - There are nine levels of paragraph coding. Each level of coding is subservient to the next higher level:

- 2.1
- 2.1.1
- 2.1.1.A.
- 2.1.1.A.1.
- 2.1.1.A.1.(a)
- 2.1.1.A.1.(a).1.
- 2.1.1.A.1.(a).1.(i).
- 2.1.1.A.1.(a).1.(i).(1).

D. Check Sheets - When a tariff filing is made with the FCC, an updated Check Sheet accompanies the tariff filing. The Check Sheet lists the sheets contained in the tariff, with a cross-reference to the current revision number. When new sheets are added, the Check Sheet is changed to reflect the revision. All revisions made in a given filing are designated by an asterisk (*). There will be no other symbols used on this sheet if these are the only changes made to it (i.e., the format, etc. remain the same, just revised revision levels on some sheets.) The tariff user should refer to the latest Check Sheet to find out if a particular sheet is the most current on file with the FCC.

- E. Effective on the first of January, April, July and October of each year the Customer should update its interstate and intrastate jurisdictional report. The Customer should forward to the Company, to be received no later than 15 days after the first of each such month, a revised report showing the interstate and intrastate percentage of use for the past three months ending the last day of December, March, June, and September, respectively, for each service arranged for interstate use, based solely on the traffic originating from or terminating to the Company. The revised report will serve as the basis for the next three months: billing and will be effective on the bill date for that service. No prorating or back billing will be done based upon the report. If the Customer does not supply the reports for those services where reports are needed, the Company will assume the percentage to be the same as that provided previously. For those cases in which a quarterly report has never been received from the Customer, the Company will assume the percentages to be the same as those provided in 2.3.3A and 2.3.3B above. T
- F. Jurisdictional Reports Verification: For Switched Access Service, if a billing dispute arises or a regulatory commission questions the projected PIU factor, the Customer will provide the data issued to determine the projected PIU factor. The Customer will supply the data within 30 days of the Company request. T
- The Customer shall keep records of call detail from which the percentage of interstate and intrastate use can be ascertained and, upon request of the Company, shall make the records available for inspection as reasonably necessary for purposes of verification of the percentages. The Company reserves the right to conduct an audit at any time during the year. The Customer, as its own expense, has the right to retain an independent auditing firm.
- G. For switched access services for which the Company cannot determine the jurisdictional nature of Customer traffic and its related access minutes, the company reserves the right to require the Customer to provide a projected estimate of its traffic, split between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions. The Customer shall upon ordering service, and quarterly thereafter, report the percentage of interstate use and such report will be used for billing purposes until the Customer reports a different projected interstate percentage for a working trunk group. When the Customer adds trunks to or removes trunks from an existing group, the Customer shall furnish a revised projected interstate percentage for each service arranged for interstate use. The revised report will serve as the basis for future billing and will be effective on the next bill date. No prorating or back billing will be done based on the report. T
- H. The Company may request detailed information in support of the reported annually and retains the right to retroactively adjust the Customer's most recent bills covering the preceding eleven months if a substantial discrepancy is found to exist. If an audit of the reported percentages reveals a substantial deviation from the Customer's previously reported PIU for the period upon which audit was based, the call detail records may be requested more than once annually. 3.2.4 Originating FG Access

The access code for FG Access switching is a uniform access code of the form 1+ or 011+ or 101XXXX. For 101XXXX dialing a single access code will be the assigned number of all FG Access provided to the Customer by a Common Carrier When the access code is used, FG Access switching also provides for dialing the digit 0 for access to the Customer's operator service, 911 for access to emergency service, and/or the end of dialing digit (11) for cut-through access to the Customer's premises. The Company will provide originating routing information access consistent with dialing parity obligations.

3.2.5 Originating 800 FG Access

800 Data Base Access Service is a service offering utilizing originating Trunk side Switched Access Service. When an 8XX + NXX + XXXX call is originated by an End User, the Company will utilize the Signaling System 7 (SS7) network to query an 800 data base to identify the Customer to whom the call will be delivered and provide vertical features based on the dialed ten digits. The call will then be routed to the identified Customer over FGD switched access. The 800 series includes the following service access codes: 800, 888, 877, 866, 855, 844, 833 and 822.

Originating FG Access is assessed for each minute of use.

N

Originating 800 FG Access includes the delivery of 8XX traffic that is initiated by a Wireless Provider's End User and is delivered from a CMRS Mobile Telephone Switching Office to the Company switch and then to a Customer. The Company will charge for all elements of service that it provides in routing such traffic.

N

A Basic or Vertical Feature Query charge is assessed for each completed query returned from the data base identifying the Customer to whom the call will be delivered whether or not the actual call is delivered to the Customer. The Basic Query provides the identification of the Customer to whom the call will be delivered and includes area of service routing which allows routing of 800 series calls by telephone companies to different interexchange carriers based on the Local Access Transport Area (LATA) in which the call originates. The Vertical Feature Query provides the same Customer identification as the basic query and vertical features which may include: (1) call validation, (ensuring that calls originate from subscribed service areas); (2) POTS translation of 800 series numbers; (3) alternate POTS translation (which allows subscribers to vary the routing of 800 series calls based on factors such as time of day, place or origination of the call, etc.); and (4) multiple carrier routing (which allows subscribers to route to different carriers based on factors similar to those in (3)).

3.2.6 Terminating FG Access

FG Access, when used in the terminating direction, may only be used to access End Users who are connected to the Company. Calls in the terminating direction will not be completed to 950-OXXX or 950-1XXX access codes, local operator assistance (0-and 0+), Directory Assistance, (411 or 555-1212) service codes 611 and 911 and IO1XXXX access codes.

4.3 Billing of Access Minutes

When recording originating calls over FG Access with multi-frequency address signaling, usage measurement begins when the first wink supervisory signal is forwarded from the Customer's facilities. The measurement of originating call usage over FG Access ends when the originating FG Access entry switch receives disconnect supervision from either the originating End User's Local Switching Center-(indicating that the originating End User has disconnected), or the Customer's facilities, whichever is recognized first by the entry switch.

For terminating calls over FG Access with multi-frequency address signaling, the measurement of access minutes begins when a seizure signal is received from the Carrier's trunk group at the Point of Presence within the LATA. The measurement of terminating call usage over FG Access ends when a disconnect signal is received, indicating that either the originating or terminating user has disconnected.

When recording originating calls over FG Access with SS7 signaling, usage measurement begins with the transmission of the initial address message by the switch for direct trunk groups and with the receipt of an exit message by the switch for tandem trunk groups. The measurement of originating FG Access usage ends when the entry switch receives or sends a release message, whichever occurs first.

For terminating calls over FG Access with SS7 signaling, the measurement of access minutes begins when the terminating recording switch receives the initial address message from the terminating End User. On directly routed trunk groups or on tandem routed trunk groups, the Company switch receives the initial address message and sends the indication to the Customer in the form of an answer message. The measurement of terminating FG Access call usage ends when the entry switch receives or sends a release message, whichever occurs first.

WilTel Communications, Inc.

Verizon New York Inc.

Case 04-C-1548

New York Public Service Commission

May 30, 2006

BY THE COMMISSION:

INTRODUCTION

In a complaint against Verizon New York Inc. (Verizon), WilTel Communications, LLC (WilTel) requests that the Commission prohibit Verizon from imposing unlawful access charges and require Verizon to amend its PSC Tariff No. 11 to bring it into compliance with the rules and regulations of this Commission and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). WilTel complains that it is inappropriate for Verizon to charge carrier common line (CCL) and local switching rates for intrastate calls originated by WilTel, but carried by Verizon for termination at radio telephone utilities (RTU).<sup>FN1</sup> Verizon argues that the existing tariff provision that allows such charges is appropriate and urges the Commission to reject WilTel's demands and dismiss its complaint.

We find that for intrastate calls terminated to an RTU, it is appropriate for Verizon to be compensated pursuant to the tariff language because the rate is consistent with the balance struck in Opinion No. 98-10 and the tariff is being applied properly. Therefore, WilTel's complaint is dismissed.

PLEADINGS

On December 6, 2004, WilTel filed a complaint against Verizon requesting that the Commission prohibit Verizon from imposing unlawful access charges upon WilTel and requiring Verizon to amend PSC Tariff No. 11 to bring it into compliance with the rules and regulations of the Commission and the FCC.<sup>FN2</sup> WilTel further requests that Verizon be ordered to credit WilTel for disputed charges imposed by Verizon under its tariff. WilTel claims that, in some instances, its New York intrastate traffic is terminated to a wireless carrier's network over facilities owned by the wireless carrier's rather than Verizon's network. WilTel argues that even though Verizon does not provide the local switching or CCL service<sup>FN3</sup> in such instances, Verizon, nevertheless, bills WilTel for such services and has done so since November 10, 2002 pursuant to PSC Tariff No. 11 - Access Service. WilTel claims that the existing tariff language which allows such charges is flawed and should be modified. Specifically, WilTel disputes section 2.4.8, which states:

When Switched Access Service involves intrastate traffic which originates or terminates at RTU Services, where the local transport is provided by the Telephone Company and the end user connection is provided by an RTU Carrier, the Telephone Company will provide its portion of the Switched Access Service in accordance with Section 6 following.

For traffic which originates or terminates at RTU Interconnections, Carrier Common Line Service and Switched Access Service Local Switching rates and charges as specified in Sections 3.9 and 6.8 following respectively, will apply.

WilTel asserts that both state and federal law support its claim that Verizon is prohibited from charging WilTel access charges for wireless services. According to WilTel, the FCC has sole jurisdiction over the rates charged by wireless carriers and wireless carriers are not entitled to compensation from an IXC for access charges unless a contract exists between the two parties that specifically require the IXC to compensate the wireless carrier.<sup>FN4</sup> Further, WilTel argues that recent FCC rules prohibit LECs from assessing access charges on behalf of wireless carriers.<sup>FN5</sup> In contrast, WilTel does not dispute the imposition of transport and tandem switching charges, as Verizon clearly provides those services, pursuant to tariff, when an intrastate call is terminated by an RTU carrier. WilTel also argues that, consistent with Section 91 of the Public Service Law (PSL), Verizon may only assess charges that are just and reasonable and is prohibited from demanding compensation for a service it does not actually perform.

Verizon argues that Section 2.4.8, which has been in effect since 1998, allows it to impose access charges in any situation where it handles intrastate traffic that is terminated to a wireless carrier's end user in New York, whether Verizon provides the local switching component or not, by virtue of the filed rate doctrine. Verizon rebuts WilTel's argument that the FCC prohibits it from charging for local switching when a wireless carrier terminates the call. First, Verizon argues that the FCC's ruling applied only to interstate traffic, while the charges that are the subject of WilTel's complaint apply only to intrastate traffic. Second, Verizon claims that the wireless carrier attempting to impose a payment obligation in the FCC's Sprint/AT&T Declaratory Ruling had no tariff permitting it to do so. Verizon claims that in the ruling, the FCC noted that a tariff, even without a contract, would permit a carrier to impose such a charge.<sup>FN6</sup> Third, the Sprint/AT&T Declaratory Ruling is not applicable because it applies only to a wireless carrier's ability to impose such charges, and Verizon is not a wireless carrier. Lastly, Verizon claims that the CLEC Access Reform Order should not apply here because it applies only to interstate traffic and the charges in dispute here are not part of any joint billing arrangement with a wireless carrier.

In a subsequent filing, Verizon further argues that Section 2.4.8 of the Switched Access tariff was approved pursuant to a 1998 rate proceeding,<sup>FN7</sup> and that nothing has occurred since that proceeding to justify a rate change. Verizon argues that application of section 2.4.8 complies with overall rate level mandated in Opinion No. 98-10. Verizon claims that modifications to that section of the tariff cannot be looked at in isolation, but only in the context of overall switched access revenues and any rate changes by the Commission should be subject to a full hearing. Verizon further claims that the change in rate structure being sought by WilTel, absent any other changes, will reduce Verizon's overall switched access revenues by approximately $40 million annually. Verizon argues that reductions to switched access rates are less appropriate now than they were in 1998 and that the Commission must consider Verizon's financial health when determining rate changes that could potentially cause revenue loss.

WilTel disagrees with Verizon's additional filing. It argues that Verizon seeks to obfuscate the issues in its complaint by introducing a 1998 Commission Opinion on intrastate access charges. However, WilTel submits that the Commission's Opinion in fact supports WilTel's argument here. In Opinion No. 98-10, WilTel contends, the Commission found that access charges apply to only services actually provided by Verizon over its network. Therefore, Verizon cannot charge for services it does not provide. Moreover, WilTel argues that even if the Commission finds that Verizon's tariff allows it to charge for services it does not provide, the CCL charge should not apply because Verizon's tariff incorrectly refers to a rate that does not exist in the tariff. Verizon's response, that it was a typographical error, according to WilTel, is inadequate. WilTel submits that Verizon should not be allowed to go outside the tariff to impose a rate that is not clearly set forth in the tariff.

Finally, WiTel argues that Verizon's application of the tariff is not equal in that when access charges paid by Verizon Long Distance accrue to another Verizon company, costs incurred by the long distance carrier are offset by revenues from other Verizon affiliates. Ultimately, WiTel asserts that because the rate at issue here is unjust and unreasonable, the Commission must order Verizon to withdraw it from its tariff. At that time, WiTel submits, Verizon can seek a tariff change to increase other rates to account for lost revenues.

DISCUSSION

Based on the pleadings from both parties regarding Verizon's recovery of costs when a wireless carrier terminates an intrastate call, we find that Verizon's charges are consistent with our prior determination in Opinion No. 98-10 and the tariff language is clear and unambiguous.

When Verizon terminates an intrastate call to a Verizon end-user, traffic is delivered by the IXC to the access tandem, and Verizon utilizes all three components of switched access service to complete the call. Intrastate calls from an IXC to an entity other than Verizon are also routed through the Verizon access tandem, however, the terminating carrier is responsible for delivery of the traffic thereafter. Wireless carriers interconnect with Verizon at the access tandem office (Type 2A Interconnection) or at a Verizon end office (Type 2B Interconnection).

The fundamental issues in this case involve whether Verizon's tariffed rate assessed to the IXC for handling traffic that terminates at a wireless RTU is just and reasonable and being applied properly.

Initially, with regard to whether the charge is just and reasonable, Verizon correctly points out that the subject charge was approved pursuant to Opinion No. 98-10. That proceeding ordered Verizon to reduce overall Switched Access revenues by approximately $85 million in a manner consistent with a rate design ordered by the Commission. The charge at issue here was developed pursuant to that overall rate design and instituted during the compliance phase of that proceeding. Nothing in the record here demonstrates that the rates were not properly implemented consistent with Opinion 98-10. WiTel simply asserts that Verizon cannot charge for a service it does not perform. WiTel's complaint amounts to a collateral attack on that rate design. WiTel does not provide any support that the rate design developed pursuant to Opinion No. 98-10 fails to comply with the Public Service Law in some material aspect. Because we conclude that the rate at issue complies with Opinion No. 98-10, granting WiTel's request would require that we alter the balance that was established there, which we decline to do.

Thus, WiTel's complaint turns on whether the tariff language is clear and unambiguous and being properly applied. Based on the plain reading of the language in the tariff, Section 2.4.8 allows Verizon to charge the disputed rate when switched access service involves intrastate traffic that terminates at a wireless RTU where the local transport is provided by Verizon. Nothing in the tariff language assumes that Verizon performs all of the stated functions including the CCL and local switching. The tariff simply implements the rate design ordered by the Commission in Opinion No.98-10. The language of the tariff is, therefore, clear and unambiguous and is being applied properly consistent with Opinion No. 98-10.

We also find that WiTel's reliance on the FCC's rulings is not dispositive here because those rulings involved interstate services that may only have been applicable to competitive LECs and not ILECs. At the time they became effective, those rulings were not grounds for Verizon to change its intrastate Access Service tariff.

Docket No. 090327
 Hypercube Exhibit C

WilTel's assertion that the rate is misplaced in the tariff due to a typographical error is also unpersuasive. A review of the tariff language at issue would allow a customer to ascertain the applicable rate despite the alleged error.

Finally, as to WilTel's complaint regarding past bill credits, because we find Verizon's rate to be in compliance with the PSL, that aspect of WilTel's complaint is also denied.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, we deny WilTel Communications, LLC's complaint against Verizon New York Inc.

The Commission orders:

1. WilTel Communications, LLC's complaint is denied.
2. This proceeding is closed.

FOOTNOTES

FN1 The acronym 'RTU' means 'radio telephone utilities', which Tariff No. 11 defines as radio common carriers and cellular carriers.

FN2 WilTel is an interexchange carrier (IXC) purchasing switched exchange access service from Verizon, an incumbent local exchange carrier (ILEC), in order to terminate intrastate telephone calls to customers in New York.

FN3 Carrier Common Line (CCL) access provides for the use of telephone company common lines by customers for access to end users to furnish customer intrastate communications. CCL is the charge that IXCs pay to LECs to connect to the end user through LEC local loop facilities. The local switching rate category provides the local end office switching and end user termination functions necessary to complete the transmission of Switched Access communications to and from the end users by the local end office.
