Subject: Gulf Power

I'm on permanent disability & unable to make the meetings about the proposed rate increase by Gulf Power. While I understand increasing with inflation, those of us living on SS/Disability as our only means of income have an extremely hard time being able to pay any more than that. With only a 2% increase in our checks, trying to pay all utilities, car, mortgage & then have money for groceries, we typically either don't have it or are living check to check. If everyone raised by inflation at the same time, we'd all be forced to either give up our homes, cars, insurance, medicines, eat less... But to want an increase over & above inflation just isn't fair to anyone, especially those of us on fixed incomes. I, for one, strongly urge you to vote against this proposed raise hike. Think of your own parents or someone you personally know on a fixed income. And if it's approved, you'll then wonder why more & more people are homeless & living on the streets. Please be fair to all of us!
