Subject: Docket No. 20170007 – deny FPL's request to recover costs for Turkey Point pollution clean up

Dear FL PSC,

FPL rate payers should NOT pay to clean up the underground saline plume at Turkey Point.

FPL created this problem by cutting corners with a goofy cooling canal system, which they even call a wastewater disposal facility. FPL should have constructed cooling towers to begin with. FPL knew the canals were leaking for decades, and even kept a covert opening to the bay for water renewal. For years, FPL did its best to hide the pollution problems from regulators and the public. And for this they want the public to cover their costs? Really? Why should customers pay for decades of mistakes and obstruction by FPL?

First, FPL should pay to clean up its own pollution. Second, FPL should either install cooling towers or decommission the site.

Please vote to deny FPL's request to recover costs on saline pollution at Turkey Point. Customers should not foot the bill on this one.

Sincerely,
Philip Stoddard
