Comments : Florida has raging sun most days of the year. Florida is known for sun. To not work harder to find ways to capture this energy is purely wasteful. To grab for something different when the sun is all around is practically like a sin. It is like letting the sweet potatoes in your own back yard spoil in the ground while repeatedly purchasing white potatoes from Idaho at the grocery.

I want the state to have solar energy and so much of it as to make it affordable for all. I am not one of those people that is happy seeing a solar farm though. I want the solar units on housetops where there is no need to further despoil any land.

Please, will you accomplish this for me? I'd like to help promote it. i'd like to take pride in my state.
