Comments : We have the technology available to make a better, more resilient power grid. Why not use it? Science proves climate change is real. It is happening now. Why not prepare our power grid now to be able to handle the stresses that the future will bring? It is cheaper to be proactive than reactive. Switch to solar now. We are, after all, the Sunshine State. It's what the people want. Don't be left behind as the rest of the world prepares for the future. Again, it is cheaper to be proactive than reactive.
