

Antonia Hover

From: Angie Calhoun
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 3:27 PM
To: Consumer Correspondence
Cc: Diana Vizcarrondo
Subject: Comments for the Undocketed file
Attachments: Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Please place these consumer comments in the un-docketed file.

Thank you,

Angela Calhoun

Antonia Hover

From: Constance Baughan <jitterbug57@hotmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:27 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Constance Baughan
7149 Hallock St
Jacksonville, FL 32211

Antonia Hover

From: Brett Marsico <unclebep@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:26 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Brett Marsico
6338 Oak Sq E
Lakeland, FL 33813

Antonia Hover

From: Javier Rivera <javierocker@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:36 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Javier Rivera
55 S 3rd St
Hicksville
Brooklyn, NY 11249

Antonia Hover

From: M. Leszczynski <kochski@chartermi.net>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:37 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
M. Leszczynski
1535 Lincolnshire Dr
Lapeer, MI 48446

Antonia Hover

From: Connie Bowman <connie.v.bowman@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:37 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you!!!! for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Connie Bowman
151 7th St S Unit 309
Unit 654
Saint Petersburg, FL 33701

Antonia Hover

From: James Forero <ravenwolf632@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:38 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
James Forero
7569 Silverwoods Ct.
Boca Raton, FL 33433

Antonia Hover

From: P Nunez <patbankers@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:38 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
P Nunez
15100 se 92
Summerfield, FL 34491

Antonia Hover

From: John-Robert Egan <jregan147@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:40 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
John-Robert Egan
470 3rd St S Unit 205
Apt 205
Saint Petersburg, FL 33701

Antonia Hover

From: Diana Cowans <cognitas@msn.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 2:42 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

We must move to renewable, clean energy to save the life on this planet. Making solar affordable and attractive financially is a huge step in that process.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Diana Cowans
5729 Fishermans Dr
Bradenton, FL 34209

Antonia Hover

From: Bhadrayu Trivedi <bhadrayut@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 3:11 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Bhadrayu Trivedi
5146 NW 22nd Drive
N W 22Nd Drive
Gainesville, FL 32605