Dear Florida Public Service Commission,

As a member of the "public," as in "Public Service Commission," and a citizen with residential solar, I urge you to preserve net metering here in Florida.

We need to encourage more citizens and businesses to install solar, rather than padding the pockets of the monopolistic utilities.

Because installing solar is expensive, net metering provides incentive to those considering installation. The utilities will continue to make money hand-over-fist even with net metering in place, so please protect the "public" by protecting net metering!

Sincerely,
Stephanie Cain
