Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

I'm a Duke Energy customer and a member of the Sierra Club.

I support solar, however, I do not support it being used as a ruse to require all customers to pay big corporations, like Walmart, millions of dollars when those corporations are perfectly capable of paying for those costs themselves. Vulnerable communities already have a difficult enough time paying their current utility bills without an additional rate increase that will subsidize big corporations instead of providing all ratepayers the benefits of clean energy.

Please deny Duke Energy's request to approve their Clean Energy Connection program. If all customers, like me, are paying for solar then we deserve to also enjoy all the cost savings of that solar, and not just big corporations.

Sincerely,

Mary Olson

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

I find it totally appalling that residents and small businesses are going to have to pay fees for something that should be a normal transition that all utilities should be doing. They are, after all, a for-profit corporation. They should be absorbing the cost of solar farms.

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

Duke's plan is not a good idea for regular customers. There are a lot of us, and we are watching what you are doing.

I'm a Duke Energy customer and a member of the Sierra Club.

I support solar, however, I do not support it being used as a ruse to require all customers to pay big corporations, like Walmart, millions of dollars when those corporations are perfectly capable of paying for those costs themselves. Vulnerable communities already have a difficult enough time paying their current utility bills without an additional rate increase that will subsidize big corporations instead of providing all ratepayers the benefits of clean energy.

Please deny Duke Energy's request to approve their Clean Energy Connection program. If all customers, like me, are paying for solar then we deserve to also enjoy all the cost savings of that solar, and not just big corporations.

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

I find this really disgusting-Duke Energy makes ALOT of money and while I respect their right to earn that money because they are doing a service by providing power for MANY myself included but to team up with Walmart and having customers like myself that relies on disability so I can live, and wanting us to pay what Walmart can surely afford without us! This is really something no one should have to do for a company that is so big they could probably pay our electric bills without it harming them but how many Duke customers will be harmed through a program like this? Please say NO to Walmart and Duke Energy and others with like ideas. Thankyou.

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

I?m a Duke Energy customer and a member of the Sierra Club.

I support solar, however, I do not support it being used as a ruse to require all customers to pay big corporations, like Walmart, millions of dollars when those corporations are perfectly capable of paying for those costs themselves. Vulnerable communities already have a difficult enough time paying their current utility bills without an additional rate increase that will subsidize big corporations instead of providing all ratepayers the benefits of clean energy.

Please deny Duke Energy?s request to approve their Clean Energy Connection program. If all customers, like me, are paying for solar then we deserve to also enjoy all the cost savings of that solar, and not just big corporations.

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

Clean energy is essential!

However, I do NOT want to pay for large corporations to change-over over their equipment, just as I would not expect them to pay for that transition at my house.

For large corporations, and even other businesses, this is part of the cost of doing business as a responsible business owner.

It is especially important that we don't put this burden on working families, many of whom are already struggling to pay their utility bills.

I'm a Duke Energy customer and a member of the Sierra Club.

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

I'm a Duke Energy customer and a member of the Sierra Club.

I support solar, however, I do not support it being used as a ruse to require all customers to pay big corporations, like Walmart, millions of dollars when those corporations are perfectly capable of paying for those costs themselves. Vulnerable communities already have a difficult enough time paying their current utility bills without an additional rate increase that will subsidize big corporations instead of providing all ratepayers the benefits of clean energy.

Please deny Duke Energy's request to approve their Clean Energy Connection program. If all customers, like me, are paying for solar then we deserve to also enjoy all the cost savings of that solar, and not just big corporations.

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

If energy companies want to go green they should do so on their own dime, not on ours. We chose to do what's right for the planet Duke should too. They should not just get to pretend they have because their customers have made responsible choices.

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

I just received a survey from Duke which asked my opinion on literature offering a whole house surge protector for a monthly fee. Secondly a fixed rate monthly electric service including a monthly management fee. Duke tied this into claims of an offset of energy from their solar field. No where did it say this offset would benefit me as a consumer. I was puzzled by Duke's lack of clarity regarding their use of their solar fields. Now I understand. What a scam on the consumer.

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

The reality is that the corporations can afford to install their own solar panels and arrays. They will save money by using solar energy. I am encouraging the collective Public Service Commission to not approve Duke's Clean Energy Connection program. Big Corporations are more than capable of paying for their own solar installations. DO NOT place this burden on the vulnerable and low-income communities. They are already struggling to pay their bills. You have been given the authority to do right by the citizen. Corporations already receive sufficient benefits from the State of Florida.

I support solar, however, I do not support it being used as a ruse to require all customers to pay big corporations, like Walmart, millions of dollars when those corporations are perfectly capable of paying for those costs themselves. Vulnerable communities already have a difficult enough time paying their current utility bills without an additional rate increase that will subsidize big corporations instead of providing all ratepayers the benefits of clean energy.

Please deny Duke Energy?s request to approve their Clean Energy Connection program. If all customers, like me, are paying for solar then we deserve to also enjoy all the cost savings of that solar, and not just big corporations.

Sincerely,

A Chestelson

Dear Commissioner Donald J. Polmann,

Power providers are ALWAYS looking for ways to stick it to the consumer, by the pocket book or by rebating solar providers with below market rates when buying back excess production. It's a rigged system that benefits only the stockholders of the fossil fuel industry and its large consumers. It should be stopped because it is unfair and damaging to the environment.

I'm a Duke Energy customer and a member of the Sierra Club.
