collected by Osmose depicting "full capacity" poles. Each exhibit contains, inter alia, (1) pole identification information, (2) photographs of the usable space on the pole, (3) identity of the CATV complainant attached, and (4) the existence of certain defined pole conditions.¹

¹ The conversion charts for the terms used to track the Osmose data is attached hereto as Exhibit 4. This same chart also is Appendix C to the Osmose Statement of Work (previously produced and submitted to the Court). Gulf Power is working with Osmose on a method of automatically converting the shorthand codes in the

DOCUMENT NUMBER-DATE

2. Definition. The Osmose audit identified poles which could not host an additional pole attachment without make-ready (either rearrangement or change-out, neither of which Gulf Power is obliged to do). Specifically, the Osmose Statement of Work defined a “crowded” pole as follows:²

A “crowded” pole, for the purposes of this joint use physical audit only, is defined as: (1) a pole that has any NESC vertical clearance violation(s) between Gulf Power Company’s transformers (30”), transformer bus conductors (40”), neutrals (40”), riser (40”), or outdoor lighting (12”) to the highest attachment below Gulf Power Company, or any NESC mid-span spacing violation(s) (4”); or NESC clearance over roads and pedestrian accessible areas that would cause one of the above clearance violations if corrected; (2) a pole that cannot accept an additional pole attachment due to vertical clearances between Gulf Power Company’s transformers (42”), transformer bus conductors (52”), neutrals (52”), risers (52”), or outdoor lighting (24”) to the highest attachment.

Each of the poles depicted in Exhibits 1, 2 and 3, all of which host a complainant Cox Communications attachment, meet this definition.

3. Exhibit 1. The pole depicted in Exhibit 1 is at “full capacity” for any of the following reasons: (1) less than 52” power/communication separation; (2) less than 40” secondary/communication attachment; (3) less than 40” neutral/communication separation; and (4) less than 12” between attachments.

4. Exhibit 2. The pole depicted in Exhibit 2 is at “full capacity” for any of the following reasons: (1) less than 52” power/communication separation; (2) less than 42” transformer/attachment separation; (3) less than 40” secondary/communication separation; and (4) less than 40” neutral/communication separation.

crowded pole reports (taken from the Access data file) to the condition/measurement described, for ease of presentation at trial.

² As Gulf Power has explained ad naseum in prior filings, there is no practical difference between the terms “crowded” (as used in the Osmose Statement of Work) and “full capacity” since “crowded” is defined in the Statement of Work to mean a pole that cannot host another attachment without rearrangement or change-out.

5. Exhibit 3. The pole depicted in Exhibit 3 is at “full capacity” for any of the following reasons: (1) less than 52” power/communication separation; (2) less than 40” secondary/communication separation; (3) less than 40” neutral/communication separation; (4) less than 12” between attachments.

Knology Make-Ready

6. Introduction. Exhibits 5 and 6, attached hereto, are examples of make-ready files prepared by Gulf Power crews and/or subcontractors performing the make-ready work for Gulf Power during the Knology build-out project of 1998-2002 in the Panama City area (mostly Comcast territory). These reports detail the exact number of “full capacity” poles with CATV attachments in the area covered by a particular work order.

7. Exhibit 5. The make-ready file attached as Exhibit 5 bears the work order number K-42 and demonstrates that 17 out of 72 poles required make-ready on poles which also hosted CATV attachments. Pages 17 through 18 contain a pole-by-pole description of the specific pole, work performed, and relevant CATV attachments on “full capacity” poles. This file was prepared by a Gulf Power crew.

8. Exhibit 6. The make-ready file attached as Exhibit 6 bears the work order number K-85 and demonstrates that 43 out of 200 poles required make-ready on poles which also hosted CATV attachments. Pages 17 through 21 and pages 23 through 26 contain a pole-by-pole description of the specific pole, work performed, and relevant CATV attachments on “full capacity” poles. This file was prepared by Utility Consultants, Inc., a make-ready contractor.

9. Relevance. The information contained in Exhibits 5 and 6 is a snapshot of the pole conditions at the time of the Knology build-out. At the time Knology sought to attach, these poles were at “full capacity” (otherwise, make-ready would not have been required). The Knology make-ready files also demonstrate the nature and scope of make-ready work performed on "full capacity" poles with CATV attachments in the Panama City area.
