We all know that the obscene upcoming FPL rate increase probably has been a done deal for years now, but it's just wrong. If I need something done on my property, I can't just request someone else to pay for it. And now with all of the "Data" centers in FL, the taxpayer is footing the bill to pay for the power and water they are eating up. (I wish I had those tax breaks!) It all sounds like a well-orchestrated plan. Just have the taxpayers pay for it whether they can afford to or not. So sad that Florida has become this.
