Comment or Question:

i just read that FPL was just granted another rate increase. with no hurricanes hitting FLORIDA this year they can't claim that as an excuse. if they are using building up their infrastructure shouldn't that come from their profits? that's the way in works for any other company? they are a monopoly so we have no choice in choosing where we get our power. meanwhile on the radio i heard that DUKE ENERGY customers are getting a 22% decrease next MARCH? PLEASE DEFEND YOUR COSTITUENTS IN THIS MATTER! THANKS
