FPL Deal for electric increases

I read an article titled "Florida Just Approved the biggest electric hike in US History". Must admit this seems lack a serious lack of awareness on the Governor and commissioners who all voted in favor of this that is truly alarming.

The electric increases sustained in the short time I've lived in Florida have been ridiculous. And for what to have more solar farms that when the next Hurricane Michael hits will destroy the land it sits on permanently. Is no one paying attention?
