PRICE LIST FORMAT

- A. Sheet Numbering - Sheet numbers appear in the upper right corner of the sheet. Sheets are numbered sequentially. However, occasionally, when a new sheet is added between sheets already in effect, a decimal is added. For example, a new sheet added between sheets 14 and 15 would be 14.1.

- B. Sheet Revision Numbers - Revision numbers also appear in the upper right corner of each sheet. These numbers are used to determine the most current sheet version on file with the Commission. For example, the 4th revised Sheet 14 cancels the 3rd Revised Sheet 14. Because of various suspension periods, deferrals, etc. the Commission follows in their Price List approval process, the most current sheet number on file with the Commission is not always the sheet in effect. Consult the Check Sheet for the sheet currently in effect.

- C. Paragraph Numbering Sequence - There are nine levels of paragraph coding. Each level of code is subservient to its next higher level:
 - 2.1.
 - 2.1.1.
 - 2.1.1.A.
 - 2.1.1.A.1.
 - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).
 - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).I.
 - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).I.(i).
 - 2.1.1.A.1.(a).I.(i).(1).

- D. Check Sheets - When a Price List filing is made with the Commission, an updated Check Sheet accompanies the Price List filing. The Check Sheet lists the sheets contained in the Price List with a cross reference to the current revision number. When new sheets are added, the Check Sheet is changed to reflect the revision. All revisions made in a given filing are designated by an asterisk (*). There will be no other symbols used on this sheet if these are the only changes made to it (i.e., the format, etc., remains the same, just revised revision levels on some sheets). The Price List user should refer to the latest Check Sheet to find if a particular sheet is the most current on file with the Commission.

Section 3.2 CUSTOM CALLING FEATURES

3.2.1 General

The Custom Calling features in this section are made available on an individual basis or as part of multiple feature packages. All features are provided subject to availability; features may not be available with all classes of service.

3.2.2 Description of Features

A. Three Way Conference

The Three Way Calling feature allows a customer to add a third party to an existing two-way call and form a three-way call. The call must have been originated from outside the station group and terminate to a station within the station group. The Call Hold feature allows a customer to put any in-progress call on hold by flashing the switchhook and dialing a code. This frees the line to allow the customer to make an outgoing call to another number. Only one call per line can be on hold at a time. The third party cannot be added to the original call.

B. Call Forwarding

Call Forwarding, when activated, redirects attempted terminating calls to another customer-specific line. The customer may have to activate and deactivate the forwarding function and specify the desired terminating telephone number during each activation procedure. Call originating ability is not affected by Call Forwarding.

The calling party is billed for the call to the called number. If the forwarded leg of the call is chargeable, the customer with the Call Forwarding is billed for the forwarded leg of the call.

3.2.3. Description of Features, Continued

C. Call Waiting/Cancel Call Waiting

Call Waiting provides a tone signal to indicate to a customer already engaged in a telephone call that a second caller is attempting to dial in. It will also permit the customer to place the first call on hold, answer the second call and then alternate between both callers. Cancel Call Waiting (CCW) allows a Call Waiting (CW) customer to disable CW for the duration of an outgoing telephone call. CCW is activated (i.e., CW is disabled) by dialing a special code prior to placing a call, and is automatically deactivated when the customer disconnects from the call.

D. Distinctive Ringing

This feature enables a user to determine the source of an incoming call from a distinctive ring. The user is provided with up to two additional telephone numbers.

E. Multiline Hunting

This feature is a line hunting arrangement that provides sequential search of available numbers within a multiline group. Circular and uniform hunting can also be selected.

Hunt group charges apply to sequential, circular and uniform hunting and queuing with announcement per queue slot.

F. Speed Calling

This feature allows a user to dial selected numbers using one or two digits. Up to eight numbers (single digit, or thirty numbers with two digits) can be selected.

3.8 LOCAL EXCHANGE - DATA SERVICES

3.8.1 Frame Relay Service (FRS)

A. Description

Frame Relay Service (FRS) is a provisional service which provides a high speed statistically multiplexed data service that allows for the transfer of variable length frames across a wide geographical area. Frames travel at high speed from the source to the desired destination via virtual connections (switched or permanent virtual connections). Frame Relay allows end users to share network resources. Each individual access link and Frame Relay port can be shared by traffic to multiple destinations.

This service, comprised of three components: local loop access, FRS port and the Data Link Connection Identifiers (DLCIs). The local loop access to the FRS network is through a dedicated, non-multiplexed digital line at 56 Kbps (DS0), 1.544 Mbps (DS1), or 44.736 Mbps (DS3). The FRS Port allow access to the FRS network. The DLCIs identify the address information and route the framed data. The DS0, DS1 and DS3 access services is offered in conjunction with Incumbent Local Exchange Carrier pursuant to and at the rates set forth in their relevant tariffs.

The Data Link Connection Identifiers are established at the time of service subscription at customer specified end points making a Permanent Virtual Connection (PVC). The FRS network will only transmit data between authorized DLCIs. Each PVC has a pre-assigned Committed Information Rate (CIR) and a Burst Rate (BR). This provides bandwidth sharing and bandwidth on demand capabilities.

The Company may also provide to subscribers a traffic data report upon request by the Customer.

B. Definitions

Access Link

A dedicated non-multiplexed digital access line at 56 Kbps, 1.544 Mbps, or 44.736 Mbps. This link can only be used for accessing Frame Relay Service.

Burst Rate

The upper bandwidth limit the permanent virtual connection is allowed to send data through the FRS network. The burst rate is limited by the actual physical port access speed.

Committed Information Rate

The CIR represents the base-level bandwidth the permanent virtual connection is allowed to send data through the network. This rate will be lower than the speed of the physical access line.

Data Link Connection Identifier (DLCI)

The address information assigned to customer designated end points used to identify PVCs and route frames of data. The frame relay virtual circuit number corresponding to a particular destination which is part of the frame relay header and is usually ten bits long.

Frame

A group of data bits, in a specific format, with a flag at either end to indicate the beginning and end of the frame. The defined format enables network equipment to recognize the meaning and purpose of specific bits.

Port

The physical entry point for the local loop access to the FRS network.

Switched Megabit (or Multi Megabit) Data Services (SMDS Access)

A way for a corporate network to dial up switched data services as fast as 45 Megabits per second.

Traffic Detail

A monthly report of data traffic information that provides the customer with details on frame and byte counts, dropped and congested frames.

Virtual Connection (circuit)

A connection established through a frame relay or packet network. Frames or packets are routed through the connection as an order-preserving transfer of data. This connection functions like a dedicated circuit between the end points.

3.8.2 Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) Primary Rate Interface (PRI)

A. Description

Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) is a set of transmission protocols that provides end-to-end digital connectivity and integration of voice, data and video, on a single Subscriber loop to support a wide variety of services via the public switched telephone network. The Primary Rate Interface (PRI) consists of a 23B+D configuration with 23* 64Kbps Bearer (B) digital channels and one 64 Kbps Data (D) digital channel. The B channels are designed for voice, data, image and sound transmissions. B channels can support synchronous, asynchronous or isochronous services at rates up to 64 Kbps. B channels can be aggregated for higher bandwidth applications. The D channel PRI provides the out of band signaling, call control and messaging.

PRI is provided through standard four wire DS-1 (1.544Mbps) point to point, private line facilities that enables Subscriber control of the 24 individual channels.

B. Regulations

1. ISDN-BRI will only be provided where central office facilities and operating conditions permit.
2. ISDN-BRI is furnished to customers at the rates and charges as shown in Section 4, which are in addition to other rates and charges for the Local Exchange Service.

3.8.3 ADSL

A. Service Description

Asymmetrical Digital Subscriber Line (ADSL) Service is an access data technology service which provides high speed connections services over existing copper facilities. ADSL service is offered in speed levels of 384 Kbps Down/128 Kbps Up to 6 Mbps Down/384 Kbps Up. The "up" speeds represent "transmission speeds in kilobytes from the customer designated location (CDL) to the Company's ADSL connection point, while the "down" speeds represent "transmission speeds in kilobytes and megabits," from the Company's ADSL connection point to the CDL. The connection point is the aggregation point designated by the Telephone Company for connecting multiple Telephone Company ADSL serving wire centers via the backbone network services to the CDL.

ADSL Service is provisioned over existing Company copper facilities and transported to the Company's backbone network. ADSL Service provides a connection from the customer designated location (CDL) to the ADSL connection point. Access from the Company's ADSL connection point will be provided via Frame Relay Service, where facilities permit. Frame Relay Service is available in Section 3.8.1. A customer may utilize their existing Frame Relay Service or may submit any order to establish new facilities. The associated rates and charges for Frame Relay Service will apply in addition to the rates and charges associated with the ADSL Service rate elements.

The Company will qualify the ADSL Service between the CDL and the serving wire center. The purpose of qualification is to determine the availability and suitability of existing Company copper facilities to provide the service. The Company will not provision this service on facilities which are not suitable for ADSL.

MANAGEMENT EXPERIENCE
(Attached)

WAMnet Senior Technical Team Resume

Andrew Massias, President and CEO : Prior to forming WAMnet Enterprises Inc, Andrew Massias was recruited in 1989 taking a job as Regional Sales and Marketing manager. Mr. Massias background was quite unique at Florida Atlantic University in that it encompassed six and a half years (1983-90) of attempting to find specific areas of study that interested him that he thought would be his final career move platform. Needless to say, a wide array of exposures to different subjects would lead him to extensive technical and management experience. Two years of Computer programming, two years of computer engineering, and two and a half years in Management Science and Systems ending up with over one hundred and sixty credit hours of college work of which only one hundred twenty was needed to graduate.

Moving to San Jose, California in early 1990 with his new job, Mr. Massias found his new opportunity as a way to develop a rounded experience in computers, marketing and business operations management. While living in San Jose Mr. Massias was prone to seek several key technical relationships with small to medium sized computer manufacturing companies whom at the time were significant market leaders in the development of the personal computing market and the beginning of computer networking via the Microsoft Windows desktop. With these relationships evolving over a three year period in San Jose, Mr. Massias returned to Boca Raton, Florida to begin his new venture WAM Systems knowing he would be at least one year ahead of the leaders in the Florida market. WAM Systems would not only lead the South Florida market with it's "high tech Silicon Valley background", but would later evolve into a Well known and successful business internet service provider.

Andrew Massias would form his first venture, WAM Systems in 1994 for the purpose of designing and developing local area networks for businesses in the South Florida Broward, Dade, and Palm Beach markets. WAM Systems was a response to a growing need for local network system integration for small business networks. Added to this, in October 1995, Mr. Massias saw the opportunity of serving the internet needs of the existing WAM Systems business customers with varieties of internet connectivity solutions and hence formed his next Florida corporation venture, WAMnet Enterprises Inc. WAMnet has since evolved to be a well recognized business Internet Service Provider serving the South Florida market servicing customers primarily with high speed dedicated internet circuits ranging from ISDN, Frame Relay, T1's, fractional T1's, and other turnkey high speed small office solutions with integrated value added options. Today, WAMnet employs fifteen people and continues to grow at an average monthly rate of twelve percent. In July 1998, Mr. Massias formed WAMnet Communications for the purpose of building his new Competitive Local Exchange Carrier (CLEC) venture in the near future.

Andrew Massias / Summary as President is currently involved in the day-to-day operations of all aspects of the company but primarily the final decision-maker for equipment selection, network design and service implementation. Mr. Massias developed rigid operational procedures focused on maintaining high levels of network security, hardware reliability, and network redundancy. Mr. Massias has hired, trained, and formulated a team of professionals that each have a unique role in providing business solutions over the internet and he has carefully developed extensive operational procedures for escalating and resolving business critical issues. Mr. Massias also continues to spend a substantial amount of his time focusing on developing new technologies for emerging internet related markets that will be served by the Internet Service Provider in the next millenium. WAMnet is now a completely scaled operation with a team of very focused sales and technical professionals executing a very focused business plan. Mr. Massias delegates most of the every day operations to WAMnet personnel whom are regularly invited into the decision-making process and have positively contributed to the success of WAMnet.

Andrew Massias continues to be build WAMnet in an effort to continually increase profits and reduce incremental cost. WAMnet's mission is enabling business to compete and communicate worldwide.
