

experts could contact BellSouth's experts, who would respond to questions on how the model works. The Movants hope that the information gathered from the workshop and the continued discussion among the parties' experts, coupled with the requested extension, will be sufficient to enable the ALEC witnesses to prepare their testimony by June 15, 2000. Without adequate time in which to properly analyze BellSouth's vast new cost model, Movants will be prejudiced in their ability to prepare testimony and will not be able to present the Commission the information it needs to make an informed decision in this docket.

3. BellSouth and Sprint have agreed to this extension. The Movants understand that GTE would oppose an extension longer than one week.

WHEREFORE, for the above-stated reasons, the Movants respectfully request that the Commission grant an extension of time for the filing of ALEC testimony to June 15 and the filing of ILEC rebuttal testimony to June 29 respectively.

DATED this 17 day of May, 2000.

Respectfully submitted,
