BEFORE THE FLORIDA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Cost recovery and allocation issues	)	Docket No. 001503-TP
for number pooling trials in Florida	)	Filed: February 16, 2001
_____	)

POST-WORKSHOP COMMENTS OF AT&T COMMUNICATIONS OF THE SOUTHERN STATES, INC.

AT&T Communications of the Southern States, Inc. ("AT&T"), through undersigned counsel, hereby file its post-workshop comments in the above-referenced docket.

Comments

At the December 12, 2000, workshop in this docket, the Commission Staff requested that post-workshop comments be filed by February 16, 2001. Pursuant to this request, AT&T offers the following initial comments at this time.

AT&T believes that the best approach to cost recovery for the Florida interim pooling trials is to wait until the FCC approves a national cost recovery system and to recover any appropriate interim costs through that process. A similar process was employed by this Commission with the interim number portability cost recovery. Waiting for recovery through the national process would avoid the need for any true-up of a state cost recovery system. Given the timetable for the national cost recovery system being developed by the FCC, it would be appropriate to simply wait for that process to conclude.
