Re: Fuel and Purchased Power Cost Recovery Clause with Generating Performance
Incentive Factor; FPSC Docket No. 070001-EI

Dear Ms. Cole:

On September 4, 2007 we submitted projection testimonies and exhibits of Tampa Electric witnesses including Joann T. Wehle pertaining to the period January 2008 through December 2008. We also submitted a request for confidential classification of portions of pages 7 and 15 of the prepared direct projection testimony of Ms. Wehle and portions of Document No. 1, page 1 of 1 (Bates stamp page 18) of the Exhibit (2) sponsored by Ms. Wehle.

Tampa Electric has subsequently determined that the two amounts shown on page 15 of Ms. Wehle's testimony, at lines 21 and 22, should not have been redacted from the testimony filing or the subject of the separate confidentially request submitted on September 4, 2007.

We enclose the original and fifteen (15) copies of a revised page 15 to Ms. Wehle's testimony (marked REVISED 10/24/07) to reverse the redaction of the two amounts shown on lines 21 and 22 of that page. We would appreciate your distributing copies of the enclosed revised page 15 of Ms. Wehle's testimony to the recipients of the original filing made on September 4, 2007, so that they may substitute this revised page in place of the one that previously contained the redacted amounts.

This letter will also serve as Tampa Electric's withdrawal of that portion of its September 4, 2007 request for confidential classification that pertained to the two amounts shown on page 15 of Ms. Wehle's testimony. The remainder of that September 4, 2007 confidentiality request remains applicable.

Please acknowledge receipt and filing of the above by stamping the duplicate copy of this letter and returning same to this writer.

Thank you for your assistance in connection with this matter.

Sincerely,

James D. Beasley

1 A. Yes. Tampa Electric has executed hedges according to the
 2 risk management plan filed with this Commission, which was
 3 approved by the company's Risk Authorizing Committee.
 4

5 Coal Transportation Costs

6 Q. Did Tampa Electric calculate the waterborne transportation
 7 costs submitted for cost recovery in accordance with the
 8 Commission's Order No. PSC-04-0999-FOF-EI ("Order No. 04-
 9 0999"), issued in Docket No. 031033-EI on October 12, 2004?
 10

11 A. Yes. The waterborne transportation costs that Tampa Electric
 12 is seeking to recover are the adjusted rates per ton for each
 13 upriver terminal as well as the adjusted ocean barge
 14 transportation rate. The company calculates the adjusted
 15 rates as described in Order No. 04-0999. The river rate is 16 adjusted using the following formula:
 17

$$\frac{\text{(Weighted average rate per ton for all upriver terminals - $1/ton)}}{\text{Weighted average rate per ton for all upriver terminals}} \times \text{Contract rate for specific upriver terminal}$$

18
 20
 21 The ocean rate is reduced by $2.41 per ton for shipments from
 22 the Davant, Louisiana terminal and $4.08 per ton for 23 petroleum coke shipments from Texas, as prescribed by the 24 Commission order.
