

BEFORE THE FLORIDA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

In re: Petition for Approval of a Special Gas
Transportation Agreement with Miami-Dade
County by Florida City Gas

DOCKET NO. 080672-GU
ORDER NO. PSC-09-0451-CFO-GU
ISSUED: June 19, 2009

ORDER GRANTING FLORIDA CITY GAS'S
REQUEST FOR CONFIDENTIAL CLASSIFICATION

On January 20, 2009, pursuant to Section 366.093, Florida Statutes (F.S.), and Rule 25-22.006, Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.), Florida City Gas (FCG) filed a request for confidential classification of certain information contained in its responses to staff's informal data requests (Document No. 00500-09 (x-ref. Document No. 11956-08)). This request was filed in Docket No. 080672-GU.

Section 366.093(1), F.S., provides that "any records received by the commission which are shown and found by the commission to be proprietary confidential business information shall be kept confidential and shall be exempt from Section 119.07(1) [the Public Records Act]." Section 366.093(3), F.S., defines proprietary confidential business information as information that is intended to be and is treated by the company as private, in that disclosure of the information would cause harm to the company's ratepayers or business operations, and has not been voluntarily disclosed to the public. Section 366.093(3)(e), F.S., provides that proprietary confidential business information includes, but is not limited to "[i]nformation relating to competitive interests, the disclosure of which would impair the competitive business of the provider of the information."

FCG contends that portions of information contained in its responses to staff's informal data requests, as more specifically described in the table in Attachment A, fall within this category and, thus, constitute proprietary confidential business information entitled to protection under Section 366.093, F.S., and Rule 25-22.006, F.A.C. FCG states that this information is intended to be and is treated by FCG as private and has not been publicly disclosed.

FCG claims that certain information contained in its responses consists of proprietary numbers which contain customer-specific information, or information from which customer-specific information can be derived easily. FCG asserts that such customer-specific information is not released to the public and, if disclosed, would harm ratepayers' privacy rights. According to FCG, public disclosure of these numbers would also have a negative impact on FCG's competitive interests in negotiations of other agreements, thus ultimately harming ratepayers.

Ruling

Upon review, it appears the above-referenced information satisfies the criteria set forth in Section 366.093(3)(e), F.S., for classification as proprietary confidential business information.

The information constitutes “[i]nformation relating to competitive interests, the disclosure of which would impair the competitive business of the provider of the information.” Thus, the information identified in Document No. 00500-09 shall be granted confidential classification.
