Subject: FPL rate increases

Here is my comment on proposed FPL rate increases:

Increasing our household electric rates while maintaining relatively high interest rates for company investors is not fair to the consumer.

This is like robbing the general public to enrich a few.

Suggestion: decrease the guaranteed return to investors – perhaps by as much as one half, and if you still need income from consumers, give us the details, and perhaps let us have a voice.

Note: I thank FPL for their preparedness and action in face of storms.

And please, invest in renewable, less polluting methods of creating power. We are the sunshine state. More coordination of solar would make sense.

Thank you,
