Dear Commissioner

(Please share your thoughts here.) While it is often stated that retired people are on a fixed income, this is false. The so called COLA has never kept up with the cost increases to the elderly; we are on a diminishing income. This tends to make us a little more sensitive to proposed cost increases that directly affect us. There is also the fact that if we truly have to pay more to preserve our world, we would like to see those costs verified and accounted for publicly as an ongoing measure to keep everything on track. Other electric utilities are doing similar work with less cost to the public and a good deal of transparency in their work. I think FPL should be held to the same standards. I am already paying a $9.00 per month premium, voluntarily, on their bill to help with solar sustainable energy. I think they are getting enough help that they do not need to be that much more ahead of other utilities in cost that are doing the same work that they are wanting the increase for. If there must be an increase, let it be reasonable for the consumer and accountable to the consumer. The present settlement does not seem to meet that criteria.

Thank you,

Charles V Gruner
