Dear Commissioner

With what is going on in this world nowadays, COVID, people out of work, loved ones lost, families destroyed, how can you even humanely think of jacking up costs? How humane is that? Did you not get effected by this? Have you not lost loved ones, lost your job? Are you not struggling just to survive, going to food banks, asking for help, trying to make ends meet? Really how can you justify doing this? I have been out of work since COVID hit, I have several injuries that occurred on my last job that I can not even get taken care of due to now they are selected surgeries non life threatening but they make it impossible for me to perform normal regular work duties, how in fair is this. We barely are hanging on here.
Thank you,
