CUSTOMER COMMENTS
I live in a mobile home park for people 55 years old and up. We all pay lot rent and water and sewage bills. I am 75 years old but some of our residents are in their 90's. Looking at the dire state of our economy is currently experiencing, this is not the time for businesses, landlords, park owners, oil companies, etc to raise rates on the American consumers. It is becoming very difficult to live on a fixed income when there are price increases on everything. Senior citizens are really having problems making ends meet. I personally just lost my husband in 2021. There were medical expenses, caregiving expenses, and increasing prices on everything we use. Plus when my husband passed away in 2021 I lost his Social Security and his pension. We need a plan for everyone to pitch in and help restore our economy, not a plan to make it worse. Raising rates for utilities, food products, rent, needed services, medical needs and more all need to be considered. It is time to work together to help one another by halting price raising for a while. Keep our water and sewer rates at the current prices and become a part of the solution until economic times get better.
