What in the world are you are doing to the customers in Florida? Two increases in a few months? What makes anyone think people here can afford it with cost of food, insurance and electricity being ridiculous? There are petitions to sue both TECO Emera and the PSC. This is unaffordable but no one, including the oh so fantastic governor cares. It is severely disappointing and is going to cause people who have been here decades to move out of state. I have no other options - did the TECO audit ---I was already everything that was recommended by the audit folks.. I have no other option besides use a generator to lower costs. Complete insanity here.

There was no storm and profits are HUGE. You should be ashamed of yourself for causing the strain you are to everyone.
