As you pursue to examine the need for rate increase in our water bills, I recommend that you examine the "why" in which there is deficit in the monies. It seems to me that there are services that are not paying their fair share of the water usage. I am willing to pay my fair share of the usable water to my home, but am concerned about paying for water that I do not consume in my home. It is of grave concern that the proposed increase exceeds the cost of living in which I have a fixed income.

I appreciate you taking my concern into consideration in the raising of the water bills.

Sincerely,
Eileen Mirr
