CUSTOMER COMMENTS

I think that its adorable that you think these rates "BS-1" etc mean anything to me. I have no idea what all these rates mean nor do I have any idea what my increase will be monthly. So this was not helpful. what I believe I do understand is FCB was sold to Chesapeake who now needs more money to supply us with gas? It would have been nice, since we really dont have any say in this, if you just would have sent a letter saying your gas is going up X amount of dollars a month. 50 I can't understand and to know what I can expect in 2027. Great waste of paper though.
