BEFORE THE FLORIDA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

In re: Petition for approval to include in base rates the revenue requirement for the CR3 regulatory asset, by Duke Energy Florida, Inc.

DOCKET NO. 150148-EI ORDER NO. PSC-15-0255-PCO-EI ISSUED: June 25, 2015

ORDER GRANTING PETITION TO INTERVENE

In February 2013, Duke Energy Florida, Inc. (DEF) announced its decision to retire its nuclear plant, Crystal River Unit 3 (CR3), in Citrus County, Florida. The retirement of CR3 was the subject of two settlement agreements. The first settlement agreement, reached in 2012,was replaced by the second settlement agreement, the 2013 Revised and Restated Stipulation and Settlement Agreement ("RRSSA"). Among other things, the RRSSA contemplated that DEF would create a regulatory asset to account for the recovery of costs associated with the retirement of CR3.

On May 22, 2015, pursuant to Sections 366.04(1) and 366.05, Florida Statutes, (F.S.), and in accordance with the RRSSA, DEF filed a petition with the Commission requesting approval to include in base rates the revenue requirement for the CR3 Regulatory Asset along with supporting testimony and exhibits. DEF asserts that it has complied with the RRSSA and is therefore entitled to recover the value of the CR3 Regulatory Asset in base rates. Further, DEF asserts all reasonable and prudent efforts were used to maximize salvage value and minimize costs that were charged to the CR3 Regulatory Asset for the benefit of DEF's customers.

By petition, dated June 11, 2015, Florida Industrial Power Users Group (FIPUG), a signatory to the RRSSA, has requested permission to intervene in this proceeding. No responses were filed in opposition to this request and the time to file an objection has expired.

Petition for Intervention

According to its petition, FIPUG is an ad hoc association consisting of industrial users of electricity in Florida, many of whom receive electricity from the Petitioner. The cost of electricity constitutes a significant portion of FIPUG members' overall costs of production. FIPUG members require adequate, reasonably-priced electricity in order to compete in their respective markets. FIPUG asserts the Commission review of DEF's efforts to recoup monies for the use and benefit of ratepayers, review of the reasonableness and prudence of certain DEF expenses related to the CR3, and the ultimate decision on whether to approve the inclusion in base rates the revenue requirement for the CR3 Regulatory Asset, coincide with numerous FIPUG members' substantial interests, including to ensure the rates they pay to DEF are fair, just and reasonable.

Standard for Intervention

Pursuant to Rule 25-22.039, Florida Administrative Code, (F.A.C.),

Persons, other than the original parties to a pending proceeding, who have a substantial interest in the proceeding, and who desire to become parties may petition the presiding officer for leave to intervene. Petitions for leave to intervene must be filed at least five (5) days before the final hearing, must conform with Uniform subsection 25-106.201, (F.A.C.), and must include allegations sufficient to demonstrate that the intervenor is entitled to participate in the proceeding as a matter of constitutional or statutory right or pursuant to Commission rule, or that the substantial interests of the intervenor are subject to determination or will be affected through the proceeding...

To have standing, the intervenor must meet the two-prong standing test set forth in Agrico Chemical Company v. Department of Environmental Regulation, 406 So.2d 478 (Fla. 2nd DCA 1981). The intervenor must show (1) he or she will suffer injury in fact which is of sufficient immediacy to entitle the intervenor to a Section 120.527, F.S., hearing, and (2) the substantial injury is of a type or nature which the proceeding is designed to protect. The first aspect of the test deals with the degree of injury. The second deals with the nature of the injury. The "injury in fact" must be both real and immediate and not speculative or conjectural. International Jai-Alai Players Assn. v. Florida Pari-Mutuel Commission, 561 So. 2d 1224, 1225-26 (Fla. 3rd DCA 1990). See also, Village Park Mobile Home Assn., Inc. v. State Dept. of Business Regulation, 506 So. 2d 426, 434 (Fla. 1st DCA 1987), rev. den., 513 So. 2d 1063 (Fla. 1987) (speculation on the possible occurrence of injurious events is too remote).

The test for associational standing was established in Florida Home Builders v. Dept. of Labor and Employment Security, 412 So. 2d 351 (Fla. 1982), and Farmworker Rights Organization, Inc. v. Dept. of Health and Rehabilitative Services, 417 So. 2d 753 (Fla. 1st DCA 1982), which is also based on the basic standing principles established in Agrico. Associational standing may be found where: (1) the association demonstrates that a substantial number of an association's members may be substantially affected by the Commission's decision in a docket; (2) the subject matter of the proceeding is within the association's general scope of interest and activity; and (3) the relief requested is of a type appropriate for the association to receive on behalf of its members.

Analysis and Ruling

Having reviewed the Petition, it appears that FIPUG meets the two-prong standing test in Agrico as well as the three-prong associational standing test established in Florida Home Builders. FIPUG asserts that it is an association of Florida industrial electricity users, some of whom are DEF ratepayers. FIPUG contends that these members' substantial interests will be affected by this Commission's decision. FIPUG further states that this is the type of proceeding designed to protect its members' interests. Therefore, FIPUG's members meet the two-prong standing test of Agrico.

With respect to the first prong of the associational standing test, FIPUG asserts that its members are customers of DEF and that its members' substantial interests will be directly affected by the Commission's decision. With respect to the second prong of the associational standing test, the subject matter of the proceeding appears to be within FIPUG's general scope of interest and activity. FIPUG is an association which represents its members' interests, and its members are industrial electricity users who purchase power from DEF. Accordingly, FIPUG's members' interests will be directly affected by the Commission's decision. As for the third prong of the associational standing test, FIPUG is seeking intervention in this docket to represent the interests of its members in seeking fair, just, and reasonable rates within the context of recovery of the CR3 Regulatory Asset. Therefore, it appears FIPUG is in a position to request the Commission to grant relief on behalf of its members.

Therefore, because it appears FIPUG meets the two-prong standing test established in Agrico as well as the three-prong associational standing test established in Florida Home Builders, FIPUG's petition for intervention shall be granted. Pursuant to Rule 25-22.039, F.A.C., FIPUG takes the case as it finds it.
