Do you want to keep the old name pending the arrival of the clarifying letter? The new name is in the mailing list at this moment.

Without looking at the agreement: a correcting/clarifying letter should be sufficient since the agreement was executed (and filed) prior to the name change docket filing, with the understanding that an amendment changing the CLEC name in the agreement will follow. (This is how I'd want to structure the correction/clarification.)

Jeff, the referenced docket number is a BellSouth agreement. Bell filed under Momentum's former name, but Docket 040508 was opened for a name change and the name change is now in effect for Momentum.

Does Bell need to file a correcting letter with us to reflect Momentum's new name?

Kay

Kay, can you look at this one? I did an MCD change that I got from Nonnye yesterday. The new name does not match the name on the docket title. I also do not see a document to justify a change in the docket title. Please let me know if we want to keep the new name or the old in the mailing list.

Sincerely,

Wondering while confused
