Dear Florida Public Service Commissioners,

As a Florida Power & Light (FPL) customer, I am writing to strongly oppose the proposed rate increase — reportedly the largest in U.S. history. This hike would place an unfair financial strain on Floridians, particularly low-income families, older adults on fixed incomes, and working households already struggling to keep up with the rising cost of living.

With housing, healthcare, and everyday essentials already at record highs, Floridians simply cannot afford to pay more for a basic necessity like electricity. Reliable power is essential for safety, health, and stability — not a luxury that should come with ever-increasing costs.

FPL remains a highly profitable company, earning billions annually. Asking customers to absorb additional costs to boost corporate profits and shareholder returns is unacceptable and contrary to the public interest.

I respectfully urge you to reject FPL's request for a higher return on equity and increased base rates. The Florida Public Service Commission's role is to protect consumers and ensure rates are fair, just, and reasonable — not to reward corporate excess at the expense of Floridians.

Please stand with Florida's residents and small businesses by saying no to this massive and unnecessary rate hike.

Thank you for your time, attention, and service to the people of Florida.

Sincerely,

Beatriz Mongeau
